"A house divided against itself cannot stand." These immortal words of Lincoln are dominately pertinent at this crucial period in history. We stand at the crossroads and look at a flame colored sky for hope for mankind. The hope lies in the United Nations as a permanent organization for peace. Is it not the dynamo to unite people of all races, colors and creeds? A divided world cannot long endure. Today all nations are interdependent and future peace and security can only be maintained through international co-operation.

Within the UN are sixty nations, with varying backgrounds and ideologies, yet they are all there to achieve a common goal. There must be compromises and fusing of differences on the basis of equality for the attainment of a united world.

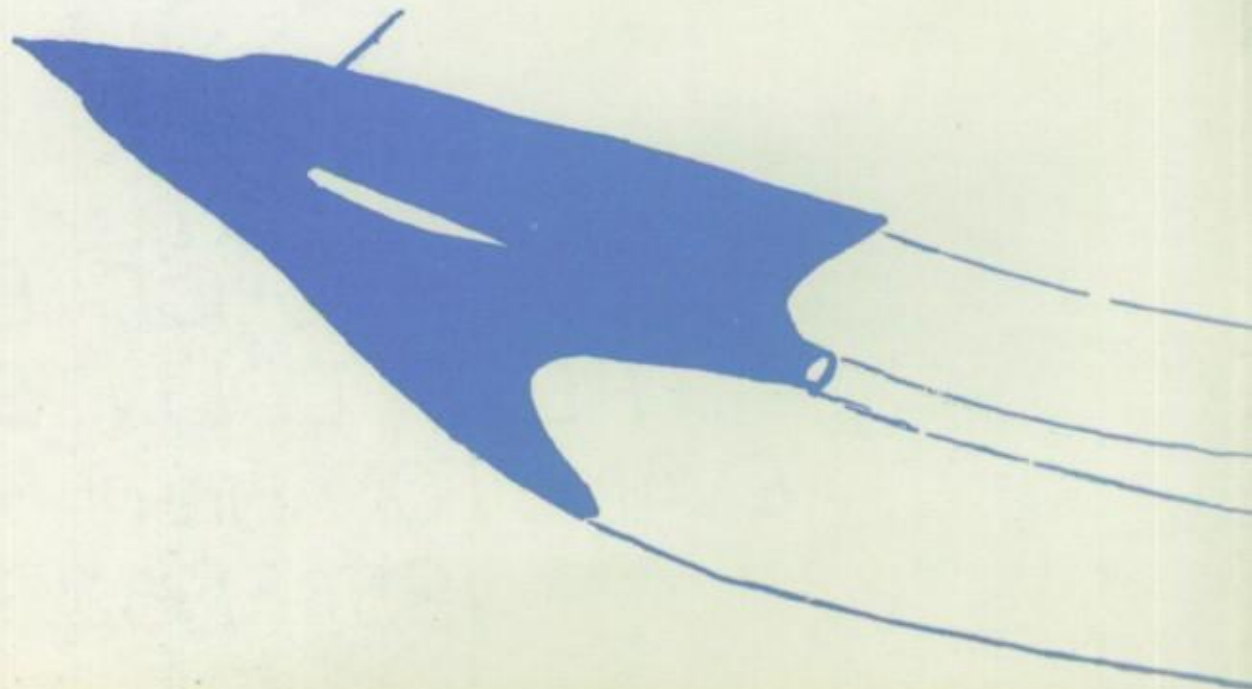

The American people took the lead in demanding and creating a United Nations. Their love of humanity predominated in a desire to pave the way for down-trodden nations to raise their standards of living which had been lowered as the result of aggression. The UN fight for human rights is on many fronts against hunger, disease, ignorance and discrimination.

These factors are prerequisites that the people may have the stamina to withstand aggression and accept only democratic principles.

"If peace cannot be maintained with honor, it is no longer peace."

A universal organization which recognizes "sovereign equality" is the honorable and feasible means toward building an enduring peace.

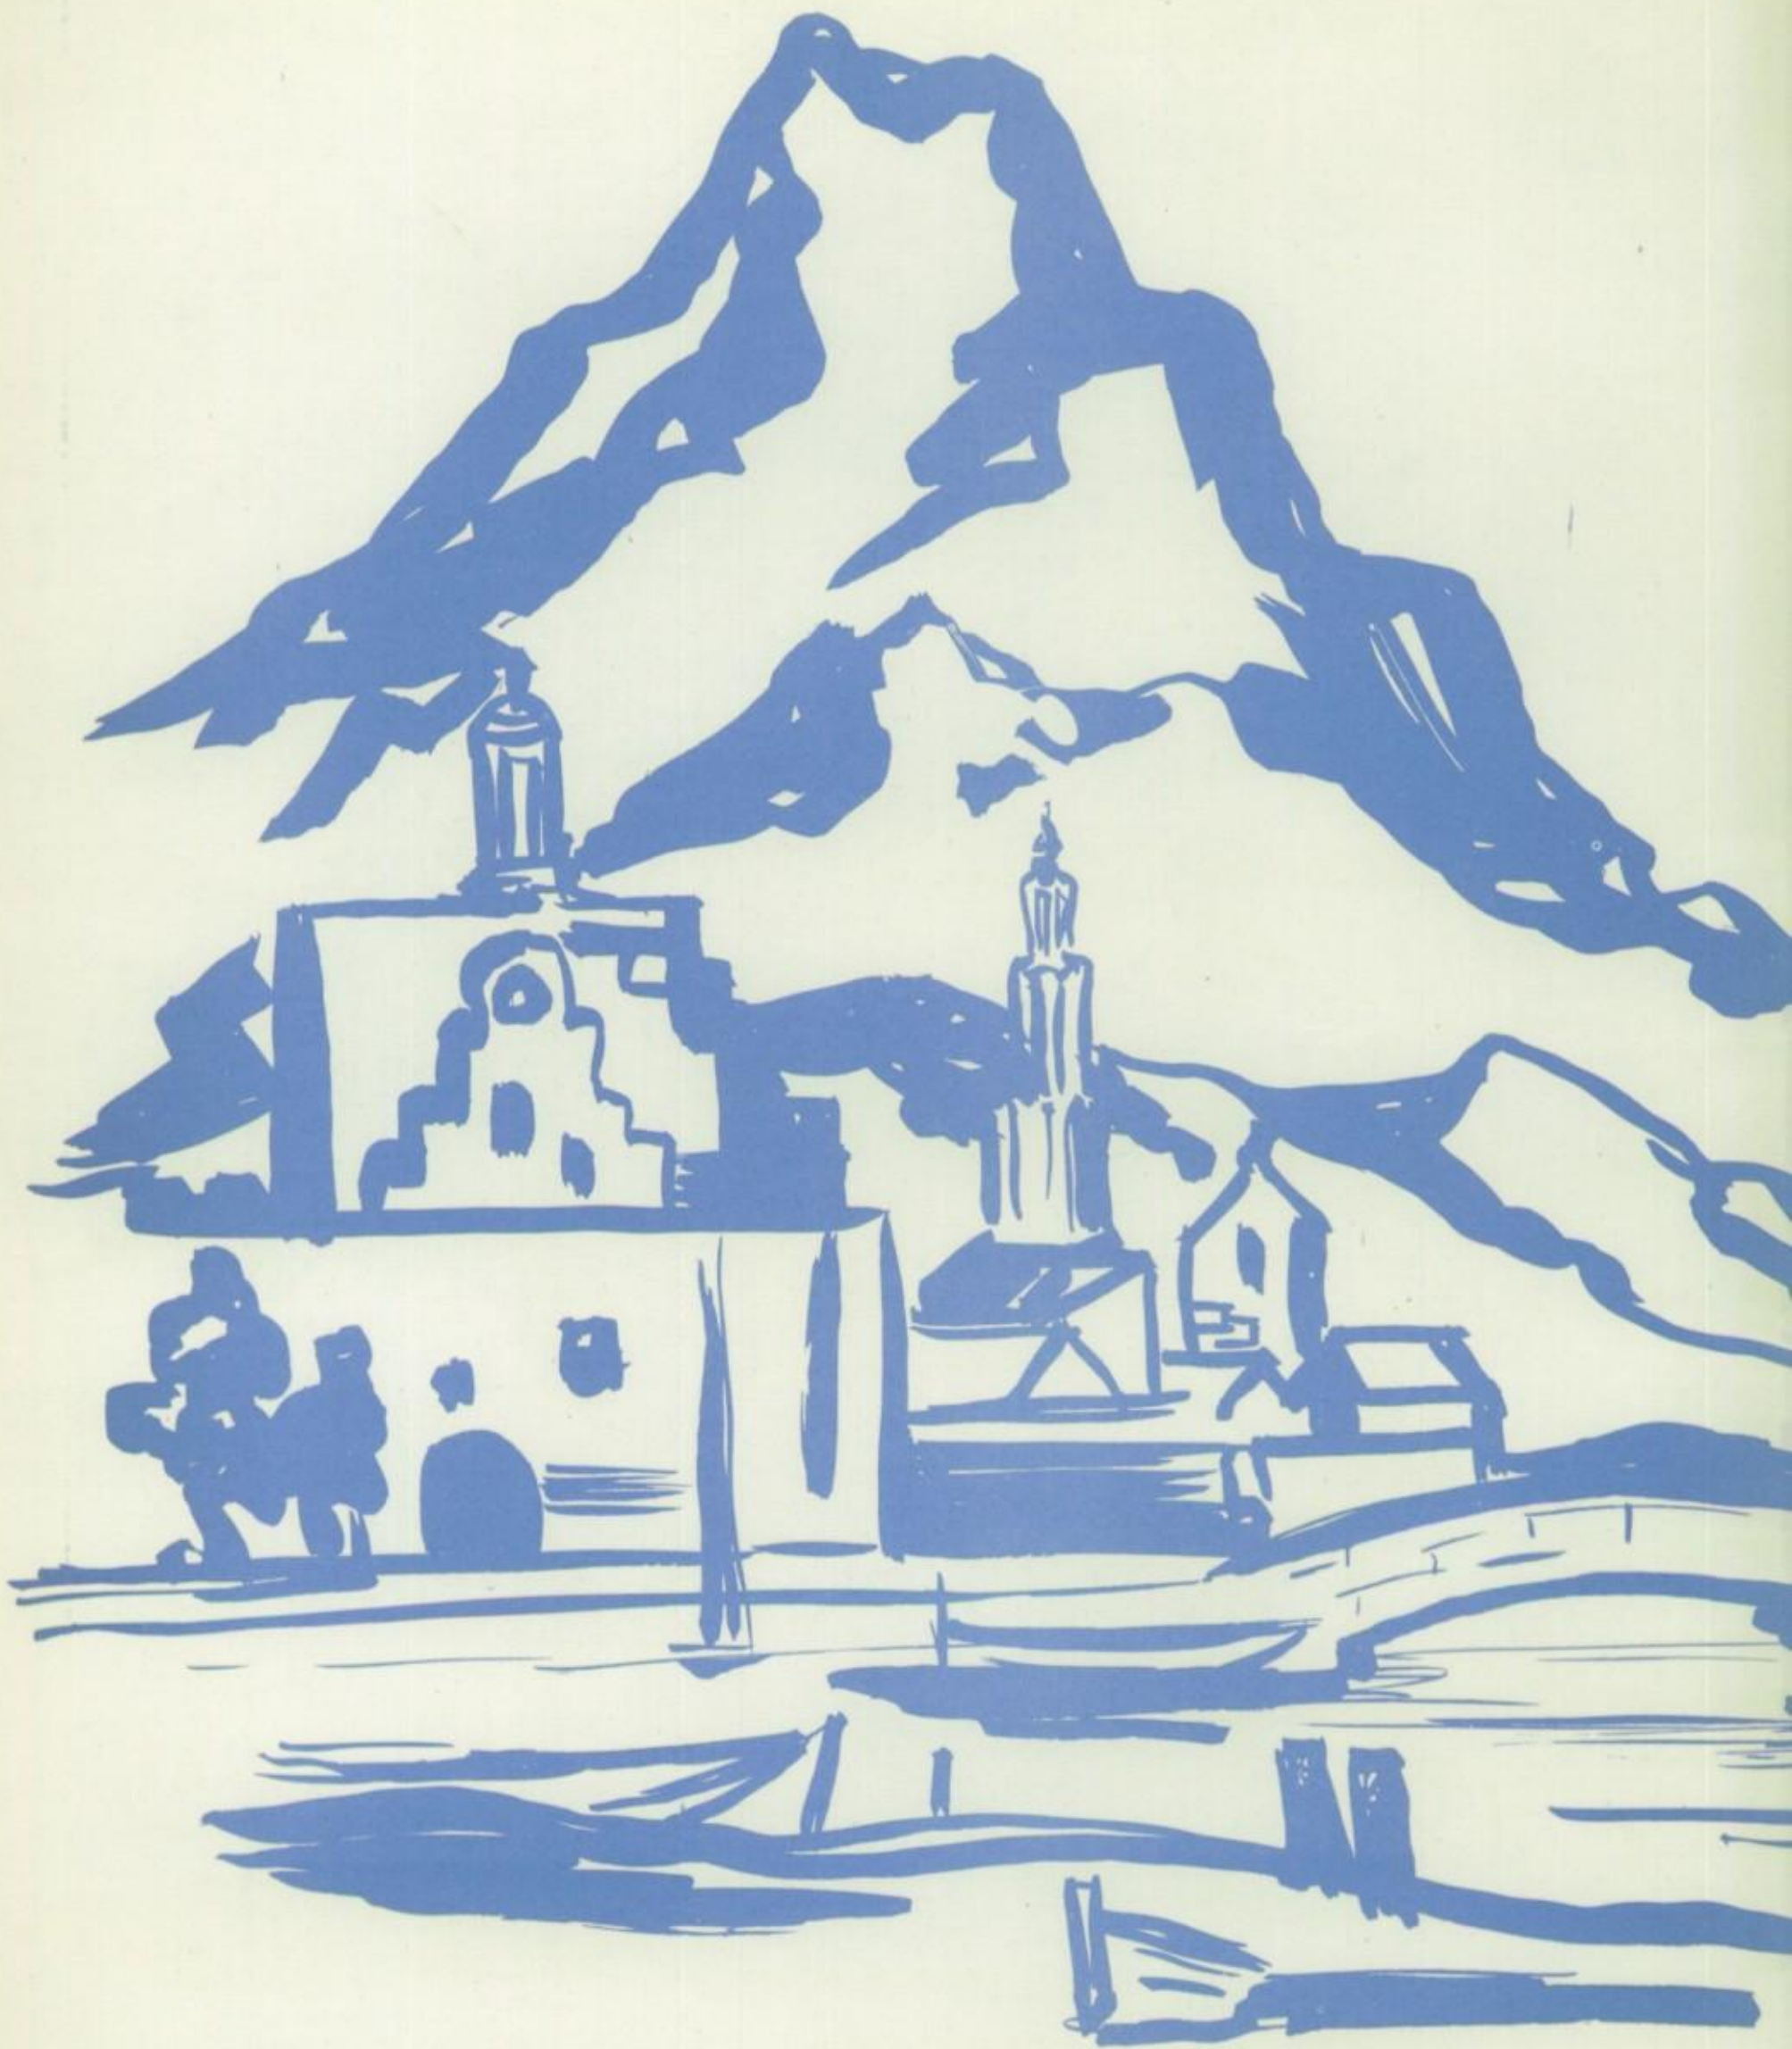

With a firm determination to fight for the right, we young citizens of America pledge ourselves to uphold the UN and thus build today for tomorrow.

Dedication

"The only way in which to fit a people for self-government is to entrust them with self-government."

We, the instigators and builders of a free world, have placed our faith in the representatives of sixty nations from all cultural levels and backgrounds. To them is entrusted the welfare of their people. Each one cherishes his freedom, whether outwardly or inwardly expressed. The UN is the medium for promulgating their "battle" for peace and security. It is a guardian against hunger, disease, tyranny and oppression--it is your future.

"Bad officials are elected by good citizens"; a troubled country is the result of lethargic citizens.

To all those gallant leaders who have died and worked for peace and democracy, and to you who will revere their monuments by your continued efforts, we dedicate this book.

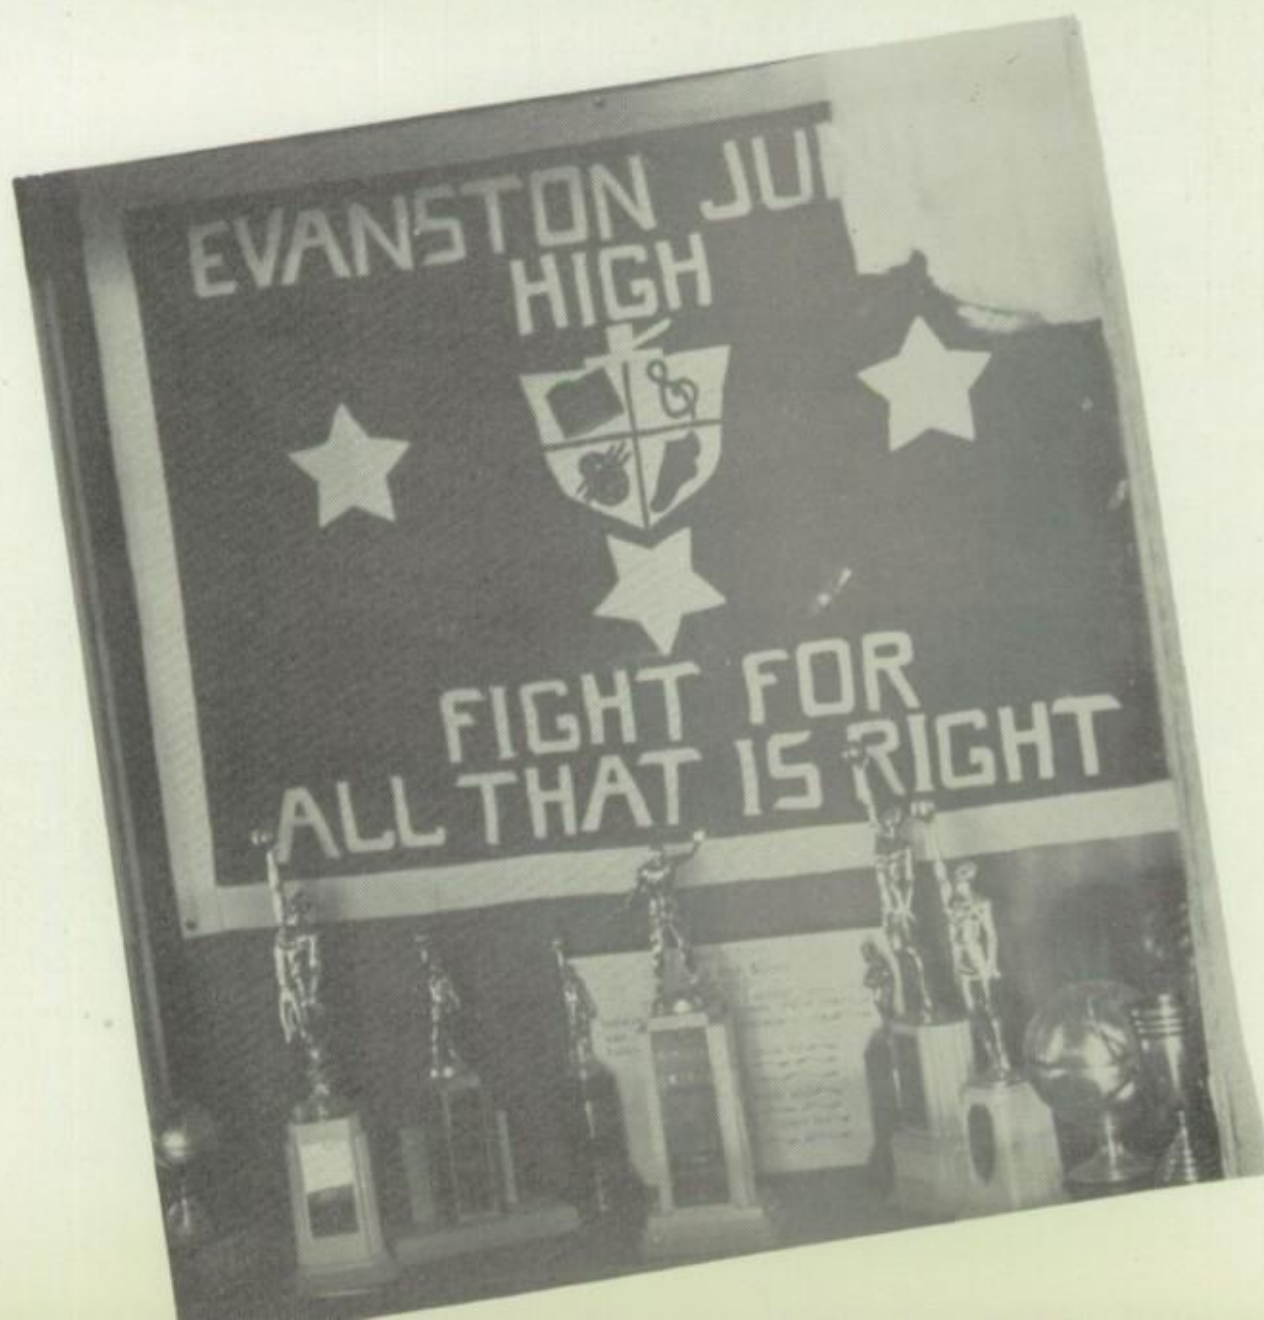

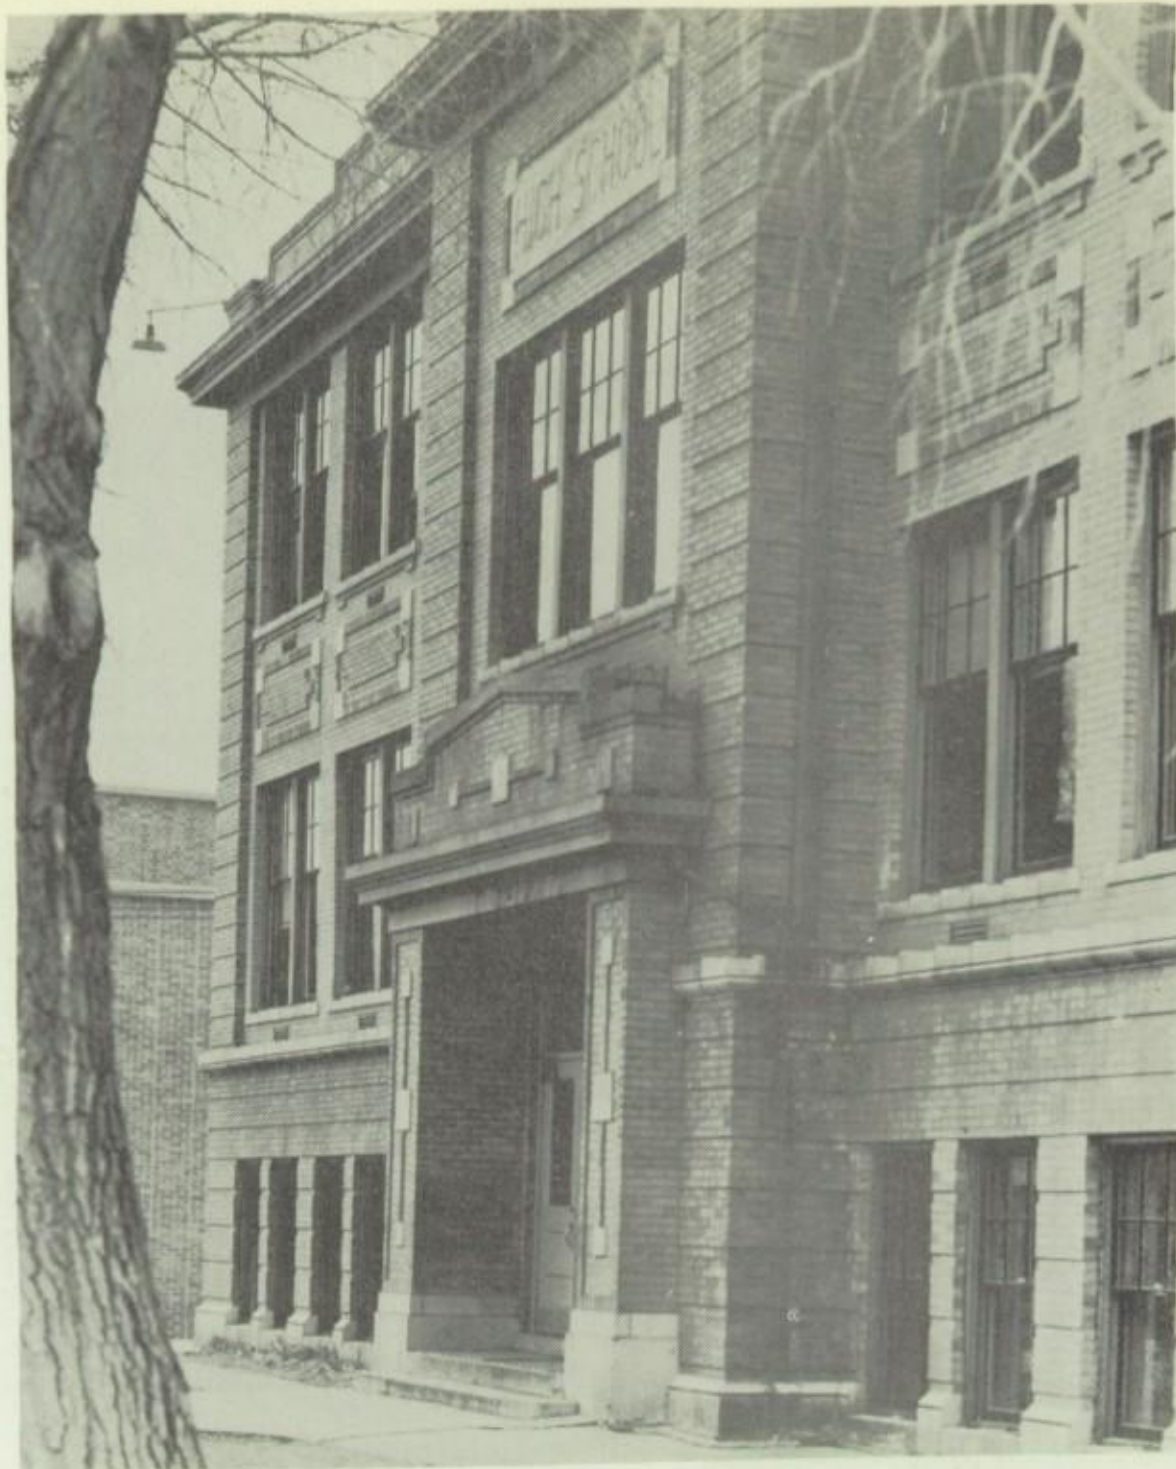

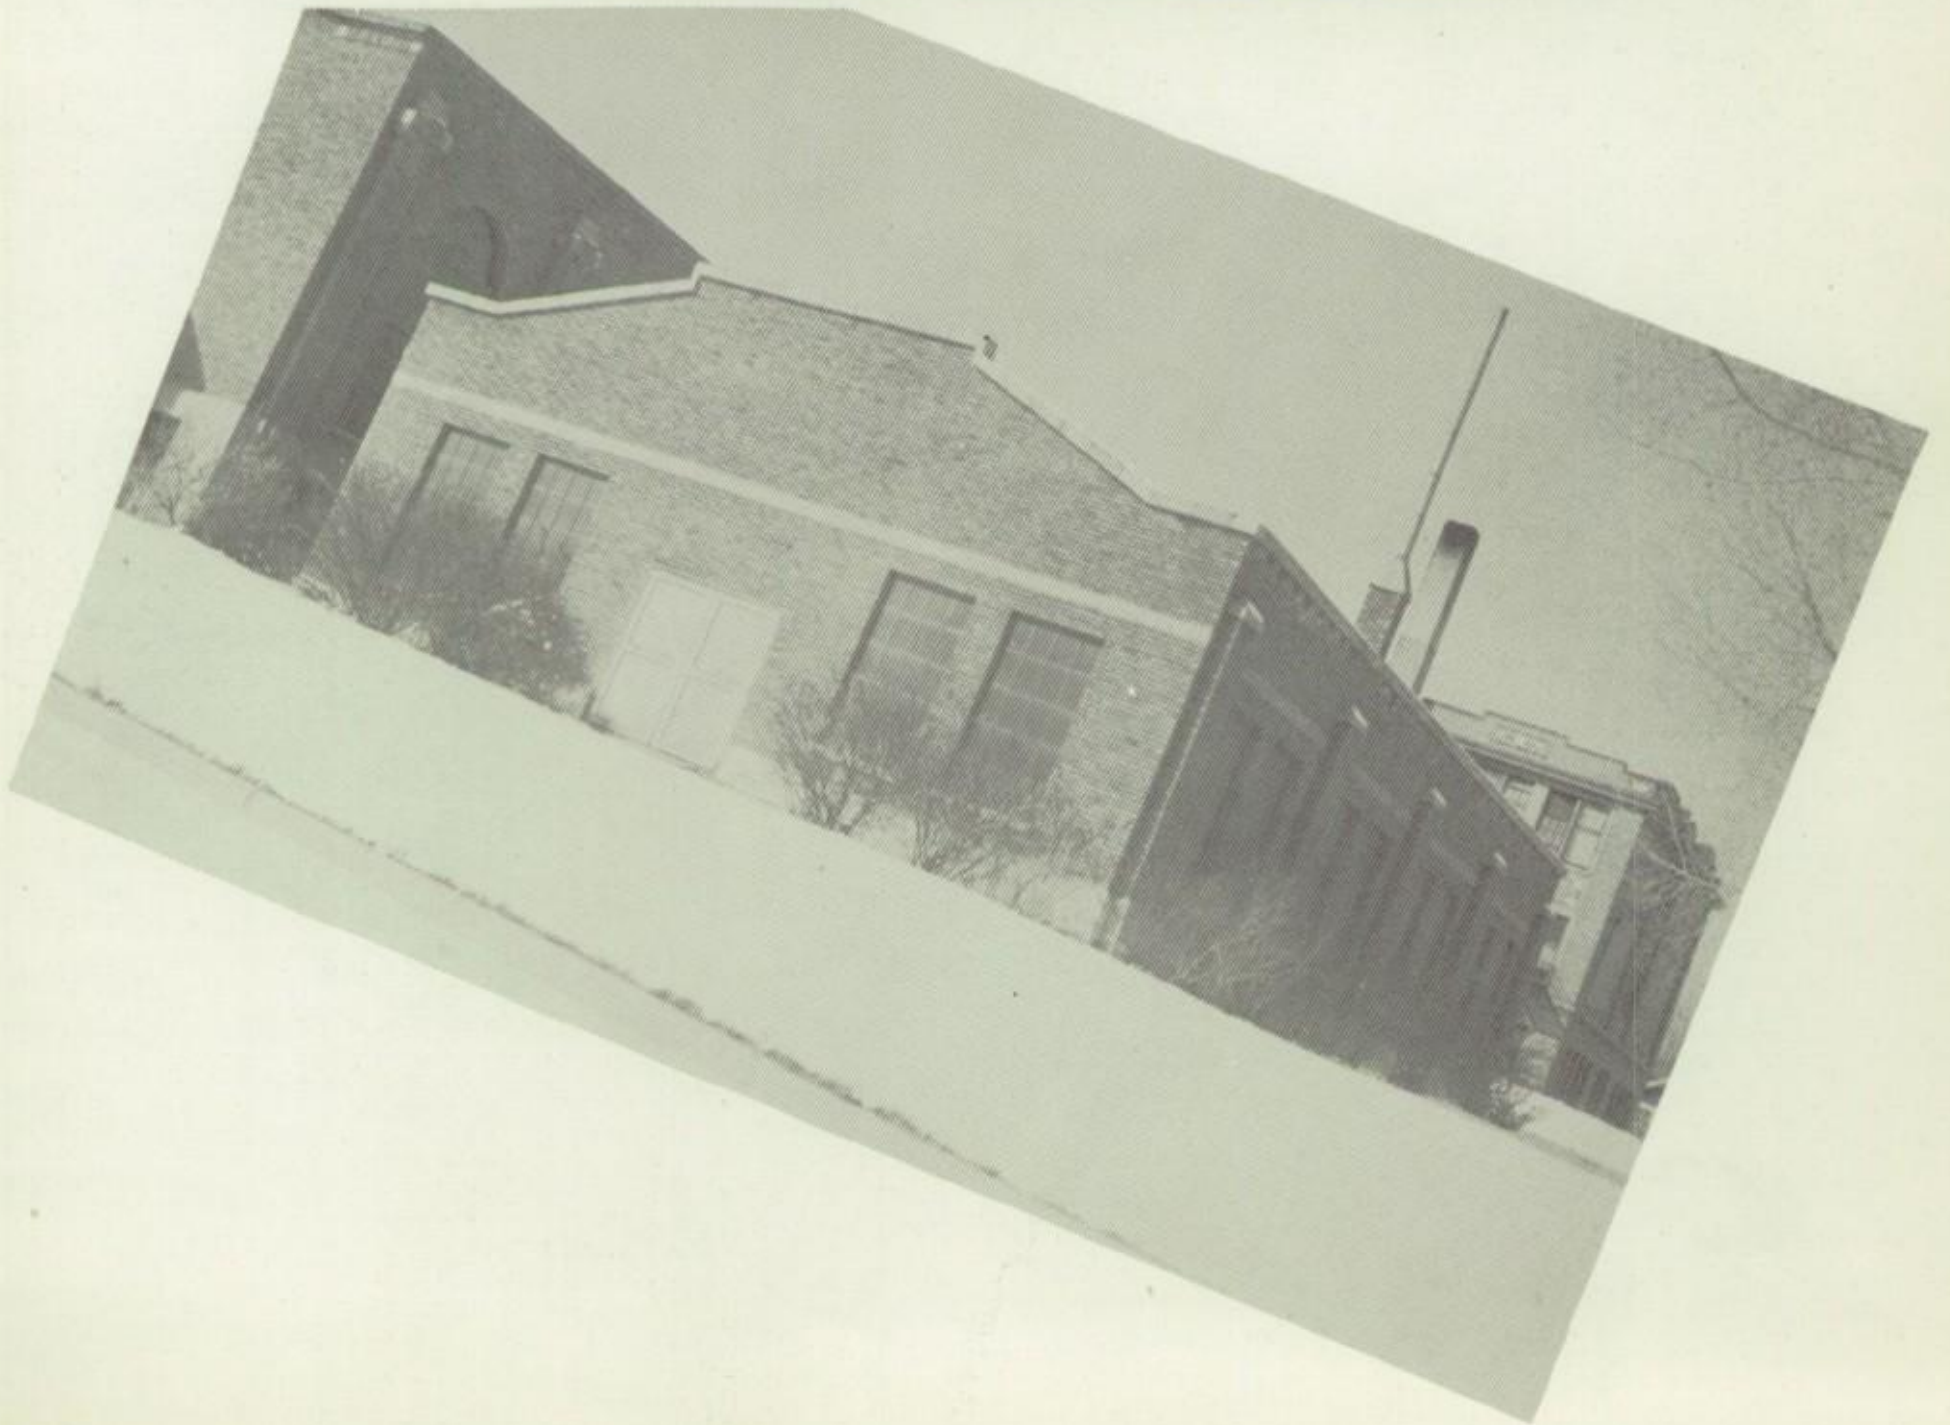

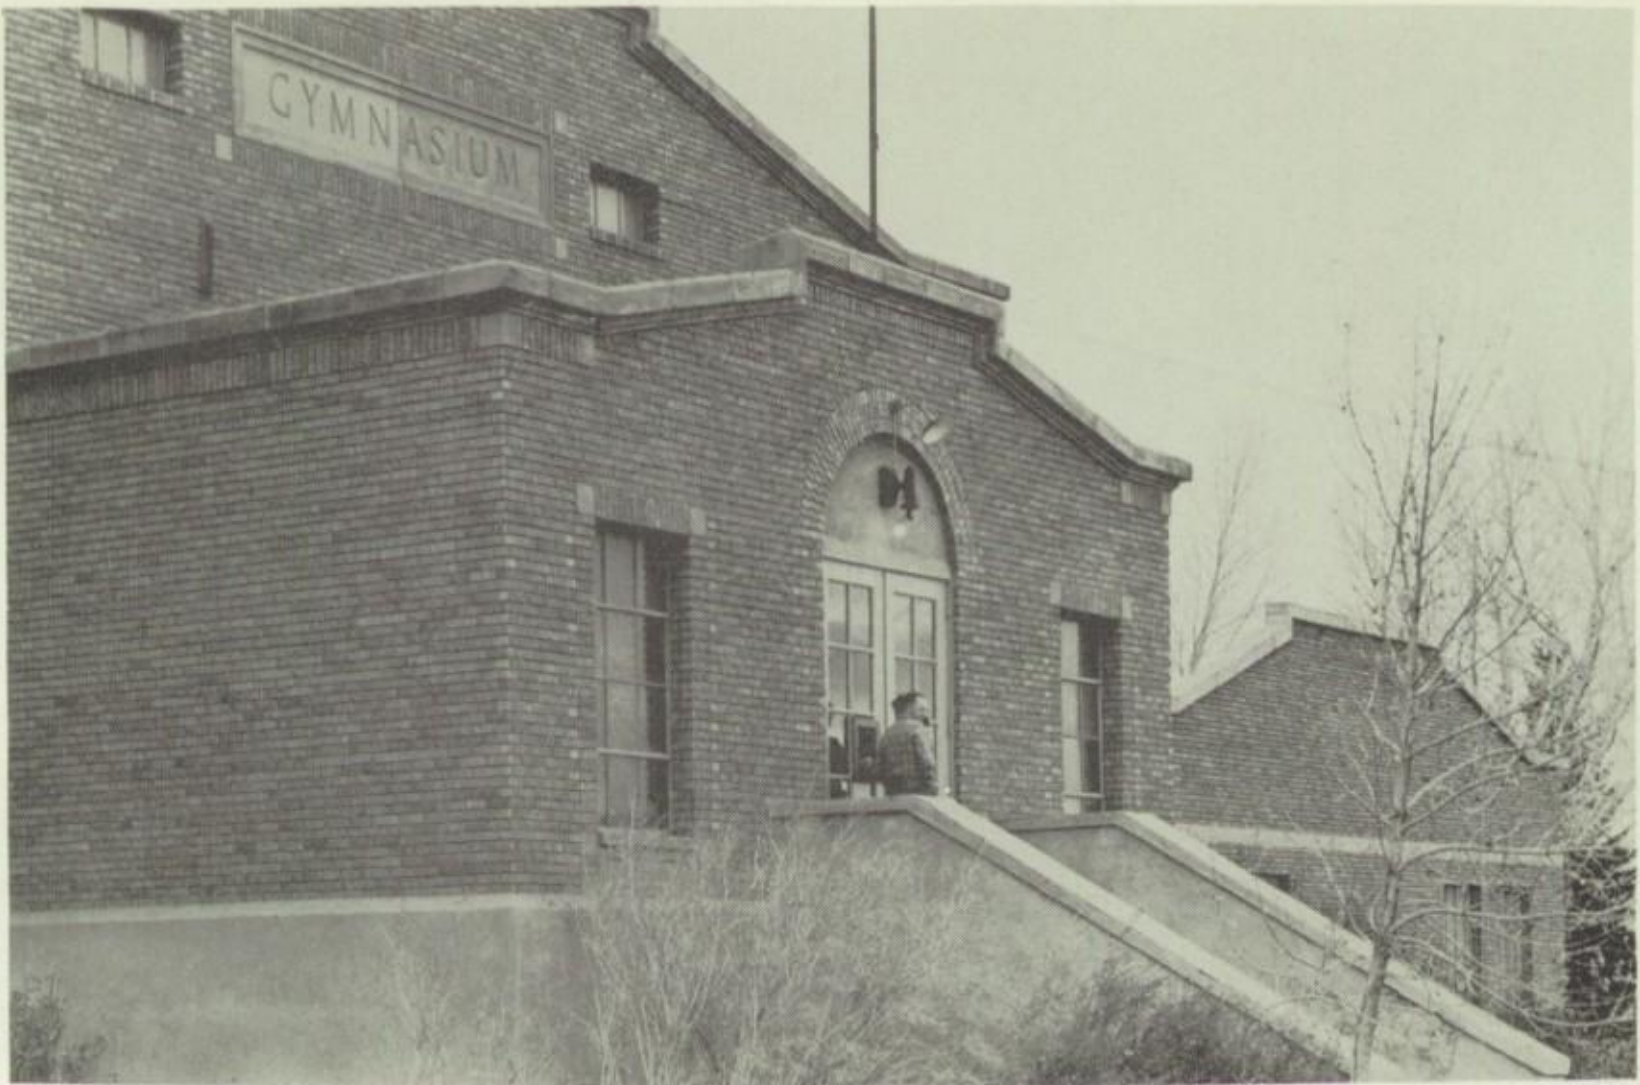

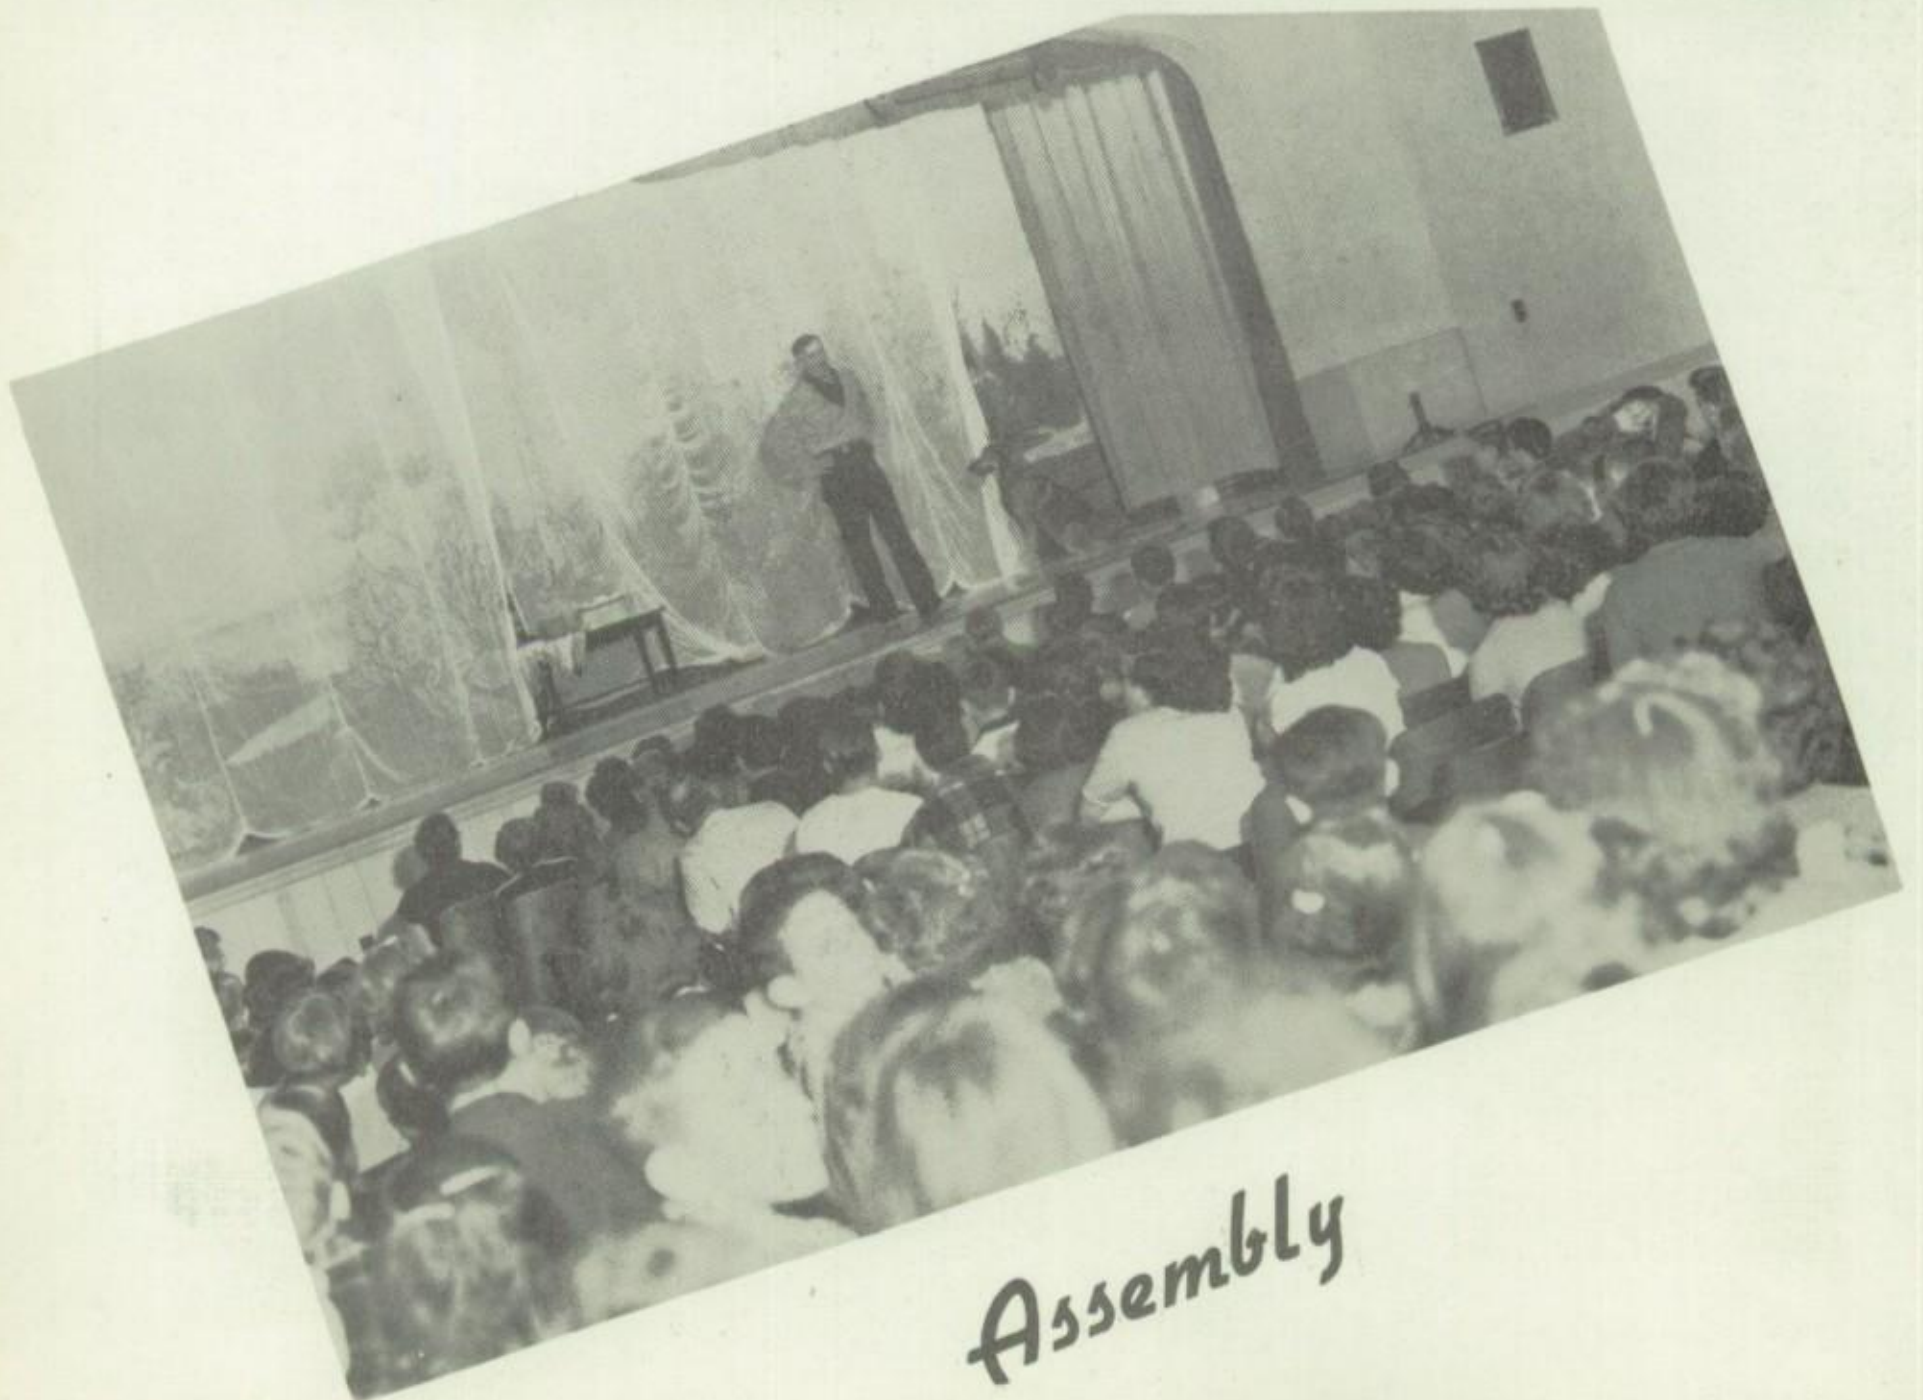

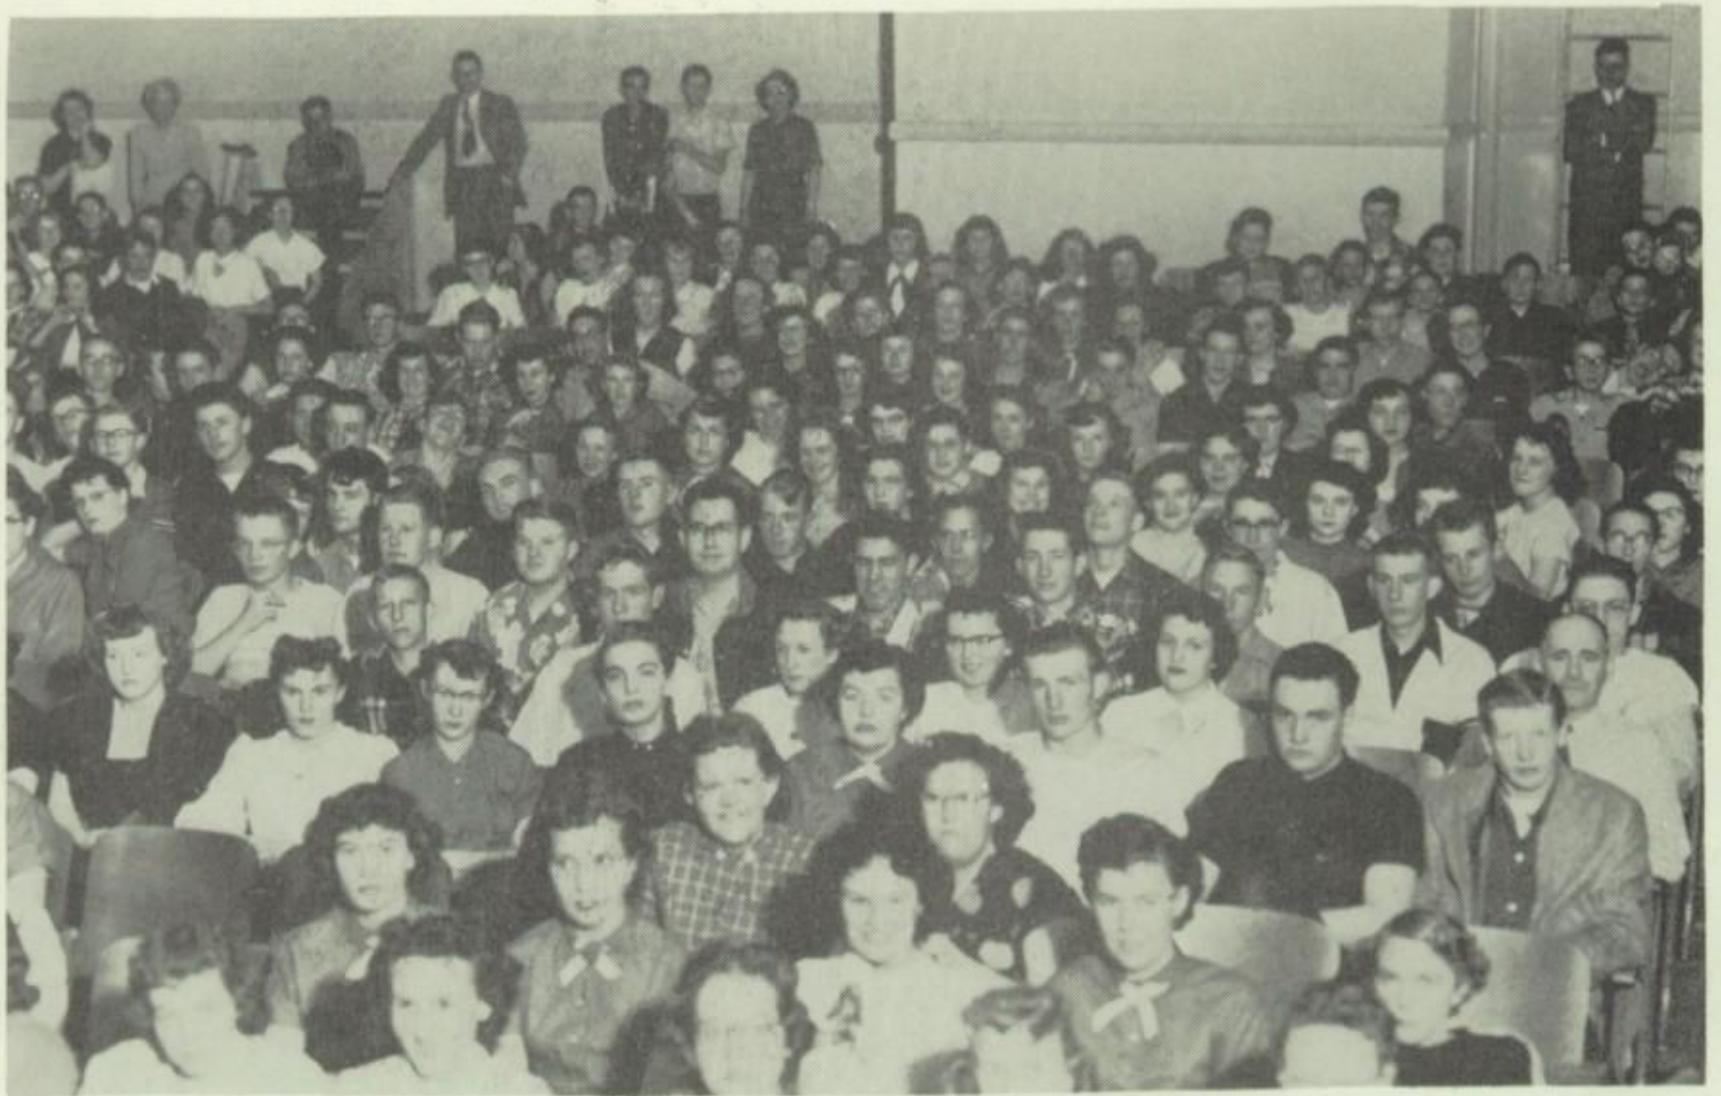

Our aim throughout the 1951-52 Devil's Diary is to record and recall for you your activities and friends this year at EHS.

The theme of this annual is the United Nations. Mr. Welsh and members of his art classes, including Paul Skyles, Gary Albertson, Larry Erickson, Evelyn Briggs, Shirley Barnes, Vernon Barnes, Joy Burleigh, Joel Carpenter, Martin Clark, Dennis Coles, Rose Marie Faulkner, Ernest Gerrard, Garry Hagerman, RaNae Lindsay, James Rasmussen, William Stonebraker, Larry Berry, and Teddy Davidson, have contributed the beautiful artwork for the double pages, division pages and symbols that were needed. Outstanding in this work are the emblems of countries belonging to the United Nations. The scenes and the customs of the countries are depicted on other pages.

The cover was again designed by Gary Albertson.

Mr. Jack Anderson of Preston, Idaho, took individual and group pictures. Miss Michelstetter and others contributed to the snapshot sections. The cover was made and the books bound by the Hiller Bookbinding Company of Salt Lake City.

The entire book was printed by Rudger Davis on the multilith machine. The headings are of a special phototype. All the literary material and names were typed by Mrs. E. Sims on a vari-typer composing machine owned by the school.

After hours of work in arranging, compiling, and writing by the Journalism Class of this pictorial history, the book was completed on schedule.

As editor of the Devil's Diary I would like to thank Mr. Welsh, his art classes, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Davis, the Journalism Class and all who contributed their time and interest toward making this 1951-52 edition a commendable production.

The United Nations has completed nearly two years of "Police Action" in Korea with a resultant casualty list of 105,841 on this twentieth day of February, 1952. Negotiations are in progress with North Korean representatives to arrange an armistice after which permanent peace proposals will be discussed. There are fears of other violent actions in Egypt, Iran and Southeast Asia.

So run the headlines of our times. It will be interesting to note in years to come the results of these many actions and their bearing on the peace of the world. We are engaged in a far-flung struggle between our free world and the forces of communism.

Posterity may read this with a puzzled smile in light of the turn of events, but they will know that this generation realizes that world citizenship is upon us with great issues at stake. The very existence and future of the free world are at the crossroads of destiny. It is hoped that those to come will be able to say that our decisions were made with wisdom and foresight.

Junior High Principal

Leland G. Rex

Each year we see the pouring forth from school doors millions of our youth variously classified, labeled, and certified as to their attainments and degrees of excellence in the great business of formal education. Many questions are asked, as they always are at such times; and one of the most important of which is asked by youth itself is--"You say we are educated--now what?" And the answer is that we cannot predict the future with detailed and accurate certainty. That a given profession will continue to be in demand, or that an established way of life will remain with us, cannot be foreseen. But, no matter what lies before us, character, industry, faith, intelligence, loyalty, and determination will always be at a high premium.

The faculty of Evanston High School

We are proud to have Mrs. Ernestine Kabell on the faculty again this year. Mrs. Kabell has taught in Evanston High School since 1929. She teaches classes in Typing I and II. Mrs. Kabell deserves much recognition for the organization, arrangement and management of the Library. Her favorite interest is books. She spent most of her summer in Boulder, Colorado, but also traveled to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to visit her son, daughter-in-law and grandson.

Mr. Leao Kirlin has just completed his eighth year as a member of the EHS faculty. Because of his capable work in instructing classes in woodworking, mechanical drawing and shop, his students have turned out some excellent products. Refereeing is more than a hobby with Mr. Kirlin. During the football and basketball season, he spends many hours, not only in Evanston but also in neighboring towns, as an official. During the summer months, Mr. Kirlin works for the forest service. Last summer he attended the University of Wyoming for five weeks.

A new member of the faculty this year is blonde, blue eyed Miss Hortense Burton of Afton, Wyoming. Her job throughout the school year is teaching Junior and Senior High home economics, and sponsoring the Junior and Senior High chapters of the FHA. In 1949 and 1950 she taught school at the University High School in Laramie and the Lyman High School. In the summer of 1950 Miss Burton visited Finland as an exchange student representing the FHA for Wyoming. After graduating from the University of Wyoming in June of 1951, Miss Burton attended several conferences at Estes Park, Colorado; Cody and Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Have trained us as leaders

Versatile and active Mrs. Virginia Thompson has a full daily schedule by combining school and domestic duties. The latter includes her son Bruce, who is a member of the Junior Class at EHS. Sophomore English, American civics and journalism constitute the subjects she teaches. The Paralyzer and the Devil's Diary are her extra-curricular productions. Last summer Mrs. Thompson flew to Washington, D. C. to attend a six weeks Institute on World Affairs. The last week of school was spent in New York City at the United Nations.

An outstanding athlete of college fame, Mr. Eddie Talboom, joined the faculty in the fall of 1951. After attending Notre Dame for one year, the University of Wyoming became his Alma Mater. Mr. Talboom as head football coach has made an excellent record by turning out a state championship team, thus high-lighting his all American title as a football star. In addition to his coaching duties, which include the Junior High basketball team, he teaches general science, and science and health. Mr. Talboom has a good start toward a football team of his own; his fourth son arrived February 15.

Miss Marguerite Goodwin of Andover, Massachusetts (35 miles from Boston), has found a spot for herself as a member of the EHS faculty. Here she teaches freshman, junior and senior English. Miss Goodwin came West for the first time last year, and spent the summer attending the University of Colorado, where Mr. Kurtz contacted her for the position in Evanston. When Miss Goodwin left on her trip West, little did she realize that she'd be spending the winter in Wyoming. Previously she taught in Salem and North Woodstock, New Hampshire.

That we as American citizens may guide

"What makes those commercial courses so interesting?" A lot of it is due to Miss Dorothy Van Driel who has been on the EHS staff for three years teaching general business, shorthand, and bookkeeping. Adding interest to her regular classes this year has been the successful basketball and football season. Probably the most interesting two weeks of the year was Christmas vacation when she went to Chicago to attend the National Business Teacher's Association Convention. While in the East, she visited her sister in Milwaukee.

Tall, blond, blue-eyed Mr. Keith Bloom joined the Evanston High School faculty in the fall of 1951 to coach the Red Devils A and B squads and assist Mr. Talboom with the football squad. In addition to the long hours he spends on these activities, he teaches regular classes in physical education, ninth grade social studies and problems of democracy. Mr. Bloom is very modest about his career as a professional baseball player. He spent one year playing for the Canadian-American League, and one year for the Southwest International League in Arizona.

The Latin, Spanish, and ninth grade English teacher is short, dark-haired Miss Lois Michelstetter. She sponsors the Spanish Club, Junior High cheerleaders, Racerettes and is also co-sponsor of the Spotlight. Miss Michelstetter devoted many hours accompanying the chorus, vocal and instrumental solos for school and community activities and at the music festival in Kemmerer. Her favorite hobby is photography; other interests include music, scrap books, athletics and travel. Last summer she visited friends in northern Kansas and California.

Our country toward international unity..

Chemistry, physics, biology and general science are made interesting by Miss Martha Peets. Sponsoring the Bi-Phy-Chem and assisting in the activities of the Junior Class are two of her extra-curricular duties. She is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota; however, she claims Wyoming as her second home. Miss Peets has been working on a Master's degree at the University of Wyoming and plans to complete it in the near future. Her favorite hobbies are cooking, reading and photography.

The new social studies teacher in the Junior High is likeable Mr. Maurice Blake. Mr. Blake is formerly from Kansas, but he attended college at Kansas State for three years; then he spent one year at the Colorado State College in Greeley, from which he graduated in 1948. He has taught in Oakley, Kansas; Florissant and Montrose, Colorado. Mr. Blake owns a tourist court at Lake George, Colorado, which is west of Colorado Springs. He operates this court during the summer months. His hobbies are hunting and woodworking.

The Senior High mathematics' teacher is Mrs. Elvira Mehegan, who has taught school in Evanston for eighteen years. Her busy schedule this year included plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, algebra, and practical math. Last summer she underwent a major operation in San Diego, California. After recuperating at her sister's home, she was welcomed back to school November 5 by faculty and students. This year Mrs. Mehegan organized the Mathematics Club. Mrs. Mehegan and her four children are all graduates of EHS.

Promote racial and cultural standards

Miss Cora E. Ellis has many duties and responsibilities in the Junior High. Seventh and eighth grade English, assistant supervisor of the Spotlight, and the dramatics. Miss Ellis spent the summer attending the University of Wyoming. The things she especially enjoyed this year were the beautiful autumn, the peaceful atmosphere that occasionally permeates her classrooms, and the friendly associations with her fellow-teachers.

Mr. Arthur Maurer has discovered that his membership on the EHS faculty requires an aptitude for a variety of activity channels. In the fall his scouting the Wyoming football teams was a potential factor in producing a championship team. In the winter season he assisted in the coaching of the B basketball squad. Guidance work is foremost on his calendar. He also has regular classes in world history, drivers' training, and science and health. Mr. Maurer has shown outstanding interest toward improvements of the school and pupil status.

Teaching five classes of mathematics, or shall we say arithmetic, in the Junior High is a five days' headache for friendly Miss Adeline Miller. In spite of her bulging classes, she finds time to give her students individual help. Miss Miller came to Wyoming from Belmont, Nebraska, nine years ago. Last summer she attended school at the University of Wyoming for five weeks. The rest of the summer she spent with her mother in Minature, Nebraska. Among her many hobbies are sewing, reading and listening to music.

Which will insure a permanent peace.

A young, talented and busy man on the faculty is Mr. John F. Welsh who teaches all the art classes, a speech class, and directs the dramatic activities. This year, he produced three plays. While at the University of Wyoming last summer, Mr. Welsh played a leading role in "Gaslight." This coming summer he plans to join a stock company in New England. His extra-curricular activities also include the Senior Class Night, one act plays for the Speech Festival, and sponsorship of the Thespians and La Cita Mard organization.

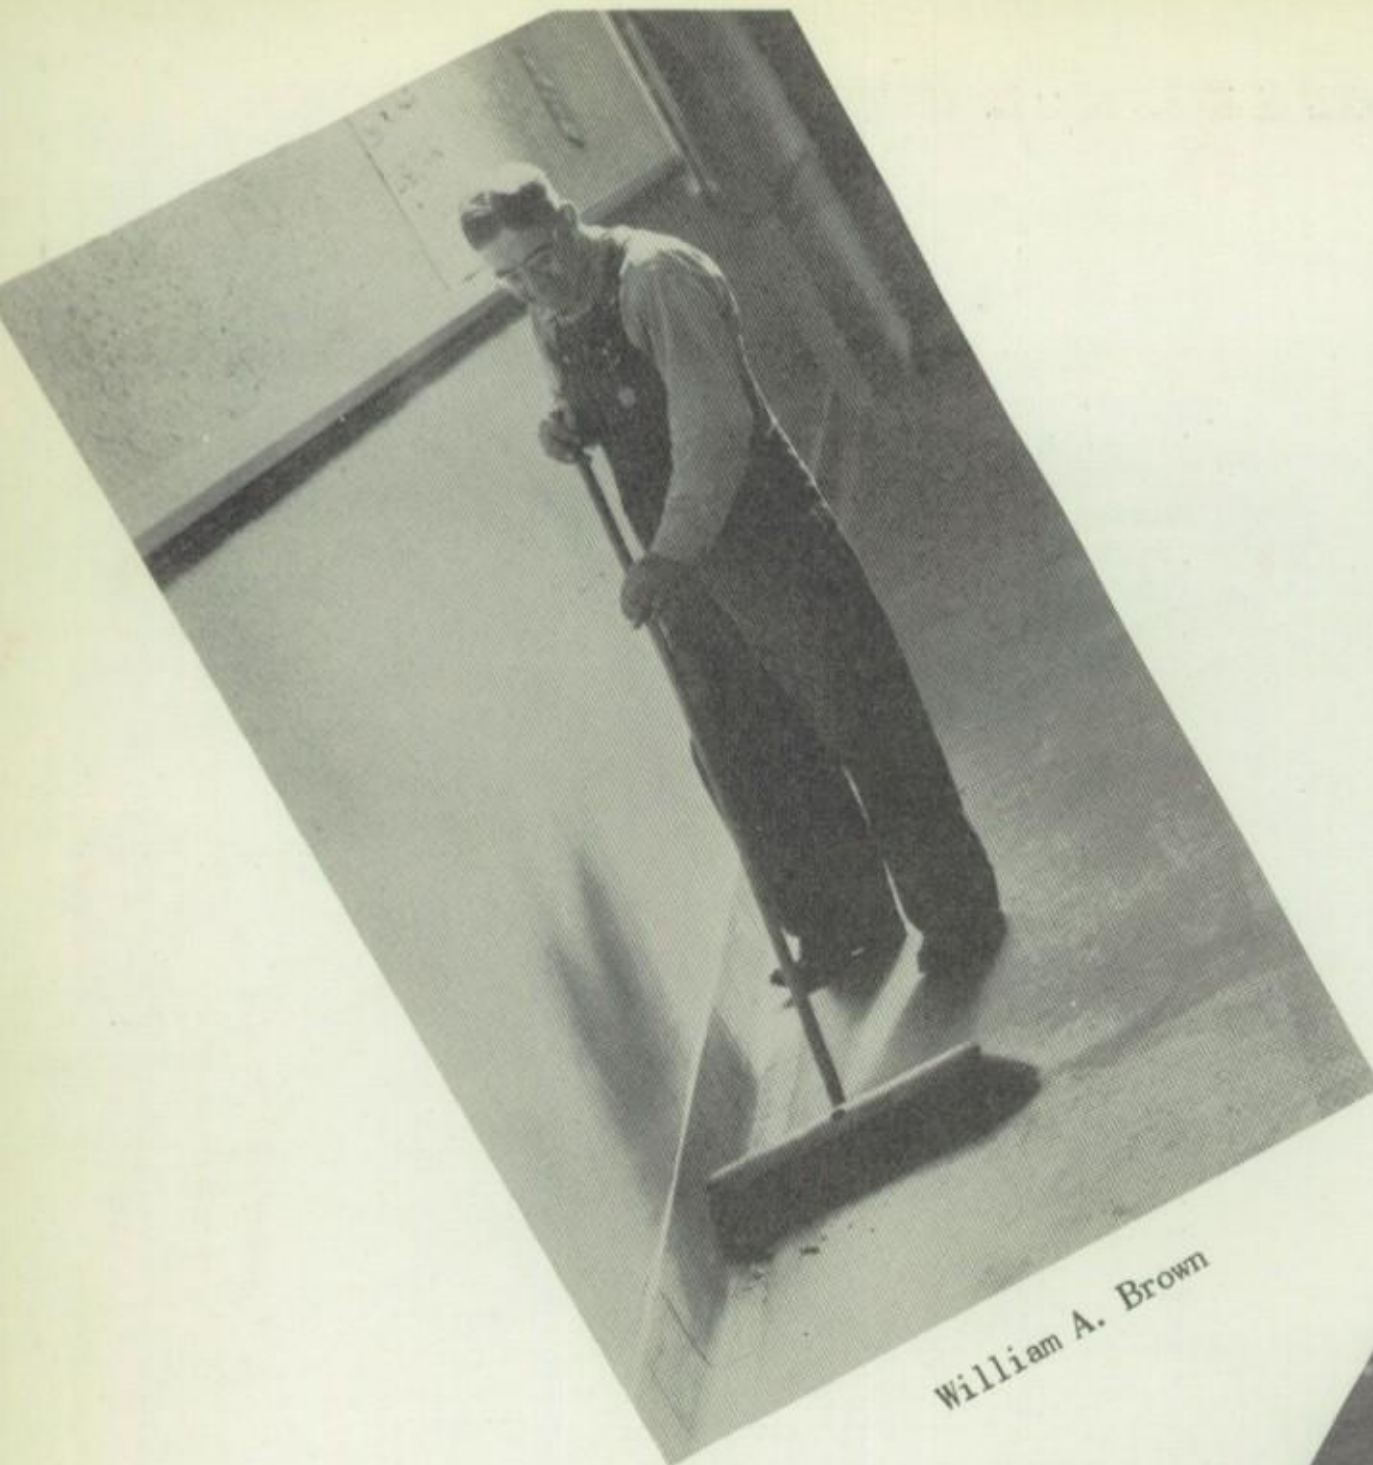

Miss Rosalie Markey instructs all the Junior and Senior High girls in physical education. In addition to this, she has three classes in science and health in the Junior High. Miss Markey was born in Norfolk, Nebraska, but claims Denver, Colorado, as her home. Last summer she spent six weeks in Canada and also went through Yellowstone National Park. Her extra curricular duties include the sponsorship of the Pepsters, cheerleaders, volley ball, tennis, baseball and the girls' tumbling teams.

The friendly band and chorus instructor "with a song in his heart" is Mr. Arch J. Stokes of Ogden, Utah, who came to Evanston in the fall of 1951 from the Lyman High School. During the war Mr. Stokes was staff-sergeant in the Army. After being released he attended Weber College and the University of Utah. From the latter he received his B.S. degree in 1950. The vocal talent of Mr. Stokes has given him much recognition. For one year he sang on television with the Darianaires, a popular male quartet from Ogden. This year he led a dance orchestra for which he was the vocalist as well as played the saxophone and clarinet.

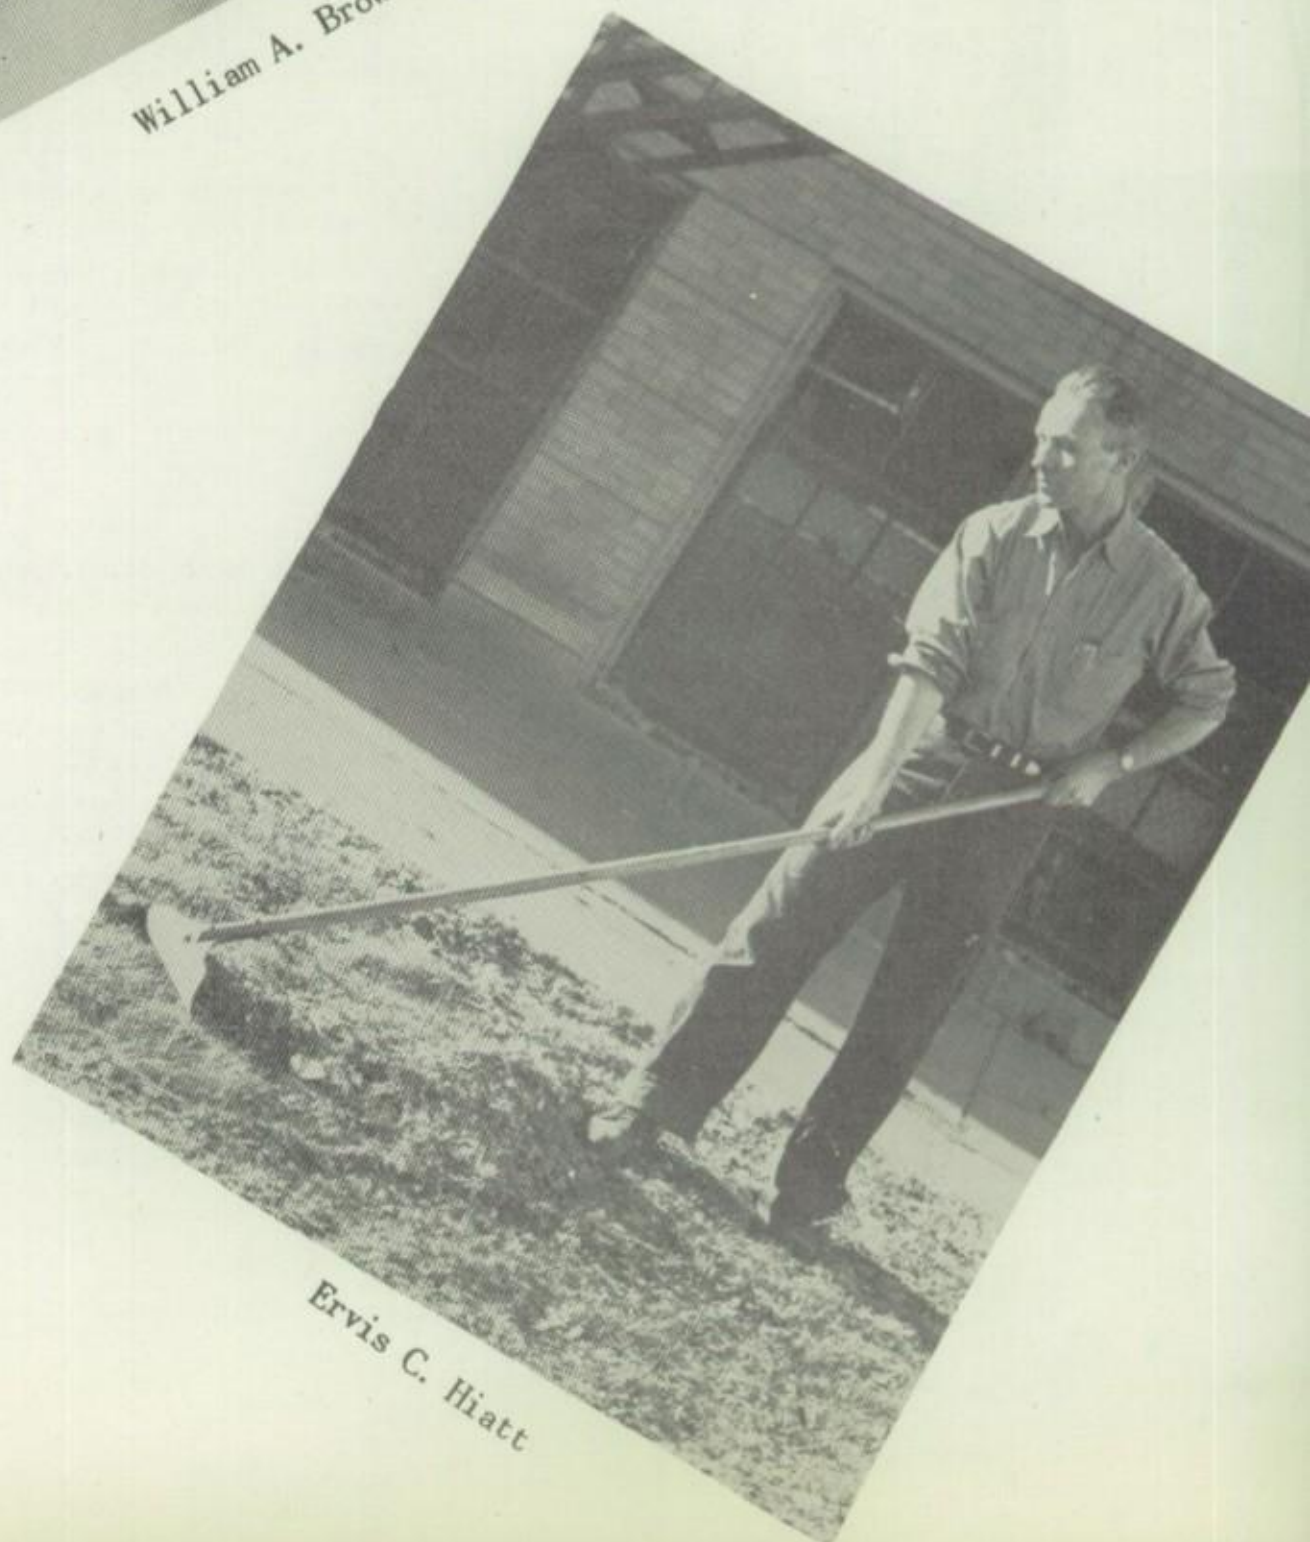

William A. Brown

A friendly, congenial and co-operative custodian in the Senior High is Mr. William A. Brown. He has worked faithfully for nine years to make our building a clean and pleasant place to learn and enjoy wholesome association.

Mr. Ervis Hiatt assists Mr. Brown in his numerous tasks and in addition has charge of the Junior High.

During the summer months both men "vacation" by caring for the lawns and shrubs.

Student Council members constitute the leaders of the self-government of Evanston High School. These members consist of student-body officers, permanent committee chairmen, class and homeroom presidents and the sponsor.

One of the main purposes of the Student Council is to lead the studentbody in all high school activities. Homeroom presidents carry all information from the Council to the homeroom meetings.

Meetings are held each Monday in the faculty lounge.

The Student Council sponsored various dances as the matinees, those after weekend games and the Sadie Hawkins' dance.

The Junior High Council is an important organization for seventh, eighth and ninth graders.

Its functions are similar to the council in Senior High, therefore, enabling them to be well fit to manage the problems they will face in their future high school years.

They meet each Monday with their sponsor, Mr. Rex, to discuss the current problems and to talk of the activities they plan to sponsor during the year.

In the fall of 1940 we entered school. Our present class was divided in three different groups, Brown, Clark, and East grade schools for our first three years. In 1943 we were brought together for the first time as a class at Clark school.

Seventy-five enthusiastic students entered Junior High in the fall of 1947. We made rapid progress up the ladder of education until May 26, 1949, the date of our promotion exercises. Out of the sixty-seven being promoted, Barbara Nielsen as valedictorian; Ardis Troyer, salutarian; James Perkins, Best All-Around boy; and Lois Harding, Best All-Around girl.

As initiated members of the Senior High we sponsored the Sophomore Stomp, November 10, 1949, and our class assembly, a minstrel show, March 18, 1950.

The highlight of our Junior year was the Junior Prom, April 21, with "Our Very Own" as our theme with Jean Davis, as queen, and William Stonebraker as king, reigning supreme. The arrival of our classrings in November also caused much excitement.

During our last and most anticipated year of high school we took part in many traditional activities: the "firing of the E"; Homecoming, with Paul Skyles and Joan Crompton as king and queen; class assembly, November 8, in which we impersonated Arthur Godfrey and his Talent Scouts. Six members of our class were on the State Championship Football team. Six of our classmates also made the basketball team. Four cheerleaders were chosen from our class of fifty.

Our last two months were filled with unforgettable dates--Senior Banquet, April 19; Senior Hop, April 26; Sluff Day, the date, of course, is kept secret; Baccalaureate, May 19; Class Night, May 21; and last, but not least, the receiving of our diplomas on May 23, 1952.

We have finally soared to the top of the ladder and must leave behind all our fond memories in EHS. We also must leave our Alma Mater in the care of the future Seniors. Guard it well!

In 1941 our class entered various elementary schools on the first mile of our road of education with Miss Starke, Miss Gerrard and Miss Smith as our first grade teachers. The highway was smooth and straight for our first six years, and progress was speedy and enjoyable.

In 1947 we entered the Junior High and again made swift progress. In our freshmen and sophomore years, our class was the proud owner of the citizenship cups.

After an unpleasant initiation we were accepted as members of the Senior High, but we were still the underdogs.

This year, as upper classmen, we have gained more privileges and opportunities. On December 20 we presented our 'Toyland Assembly.' Santa Claus, alias Billy Gerrard, introduced the various numbers. The second big event was the arrival of our class rings in January, which completed our feeling of belonging to EHS.

On April 19, in a realistic King Neptune's Garden, we danced to the music of "How Deep Is The Ocean?" at our Junior Prom, the highlight of our high school career.

We look forward to next year, which will mark the end of our happy, successful trip through school. Here our class car will turn from the side road of education, onto the difficult, yet happy, open road of life.

We, the class of '54, began our education in the fall of 1942 at East, Clark, Brown and Hilliard grade schools under the instruction of Miss Starkey, Miss Smith, Miss Gerrard and Mrs. Martin, respectively.

Most of our social life began upon our entrance to Junior High in the fall of 1947. This year we presented an assembly in which every classmate participated.

Our contribution to the basketball team consisted of six members. Four cheerleaders from our class led this basketball team to victory.

In our sophomore year Harold Thomason and Bill Narramore were on the A basketball squad; Jerry Palmer, Jimmy Parsons, Francis Bettinson and Ralph Martin on the B.

The big event of the ninth grade was the promotion exercises May 23, 1951, at which Alan Dean was valedictorian; Jean Gerrard, salutatorian; Kay Martin, Best All-Around girl; and Gary Green, Best All-Around boy.

We were initiated into the Senior High in the fall of 1951. We donned nursery rhyme costumes prescribed by the juniors and seniors. This ended with the traditional water fight.

At 5 a.m. on Homecoming we arose to make the trek to the E to perform the task of giving it a fresh coat of whitewash.

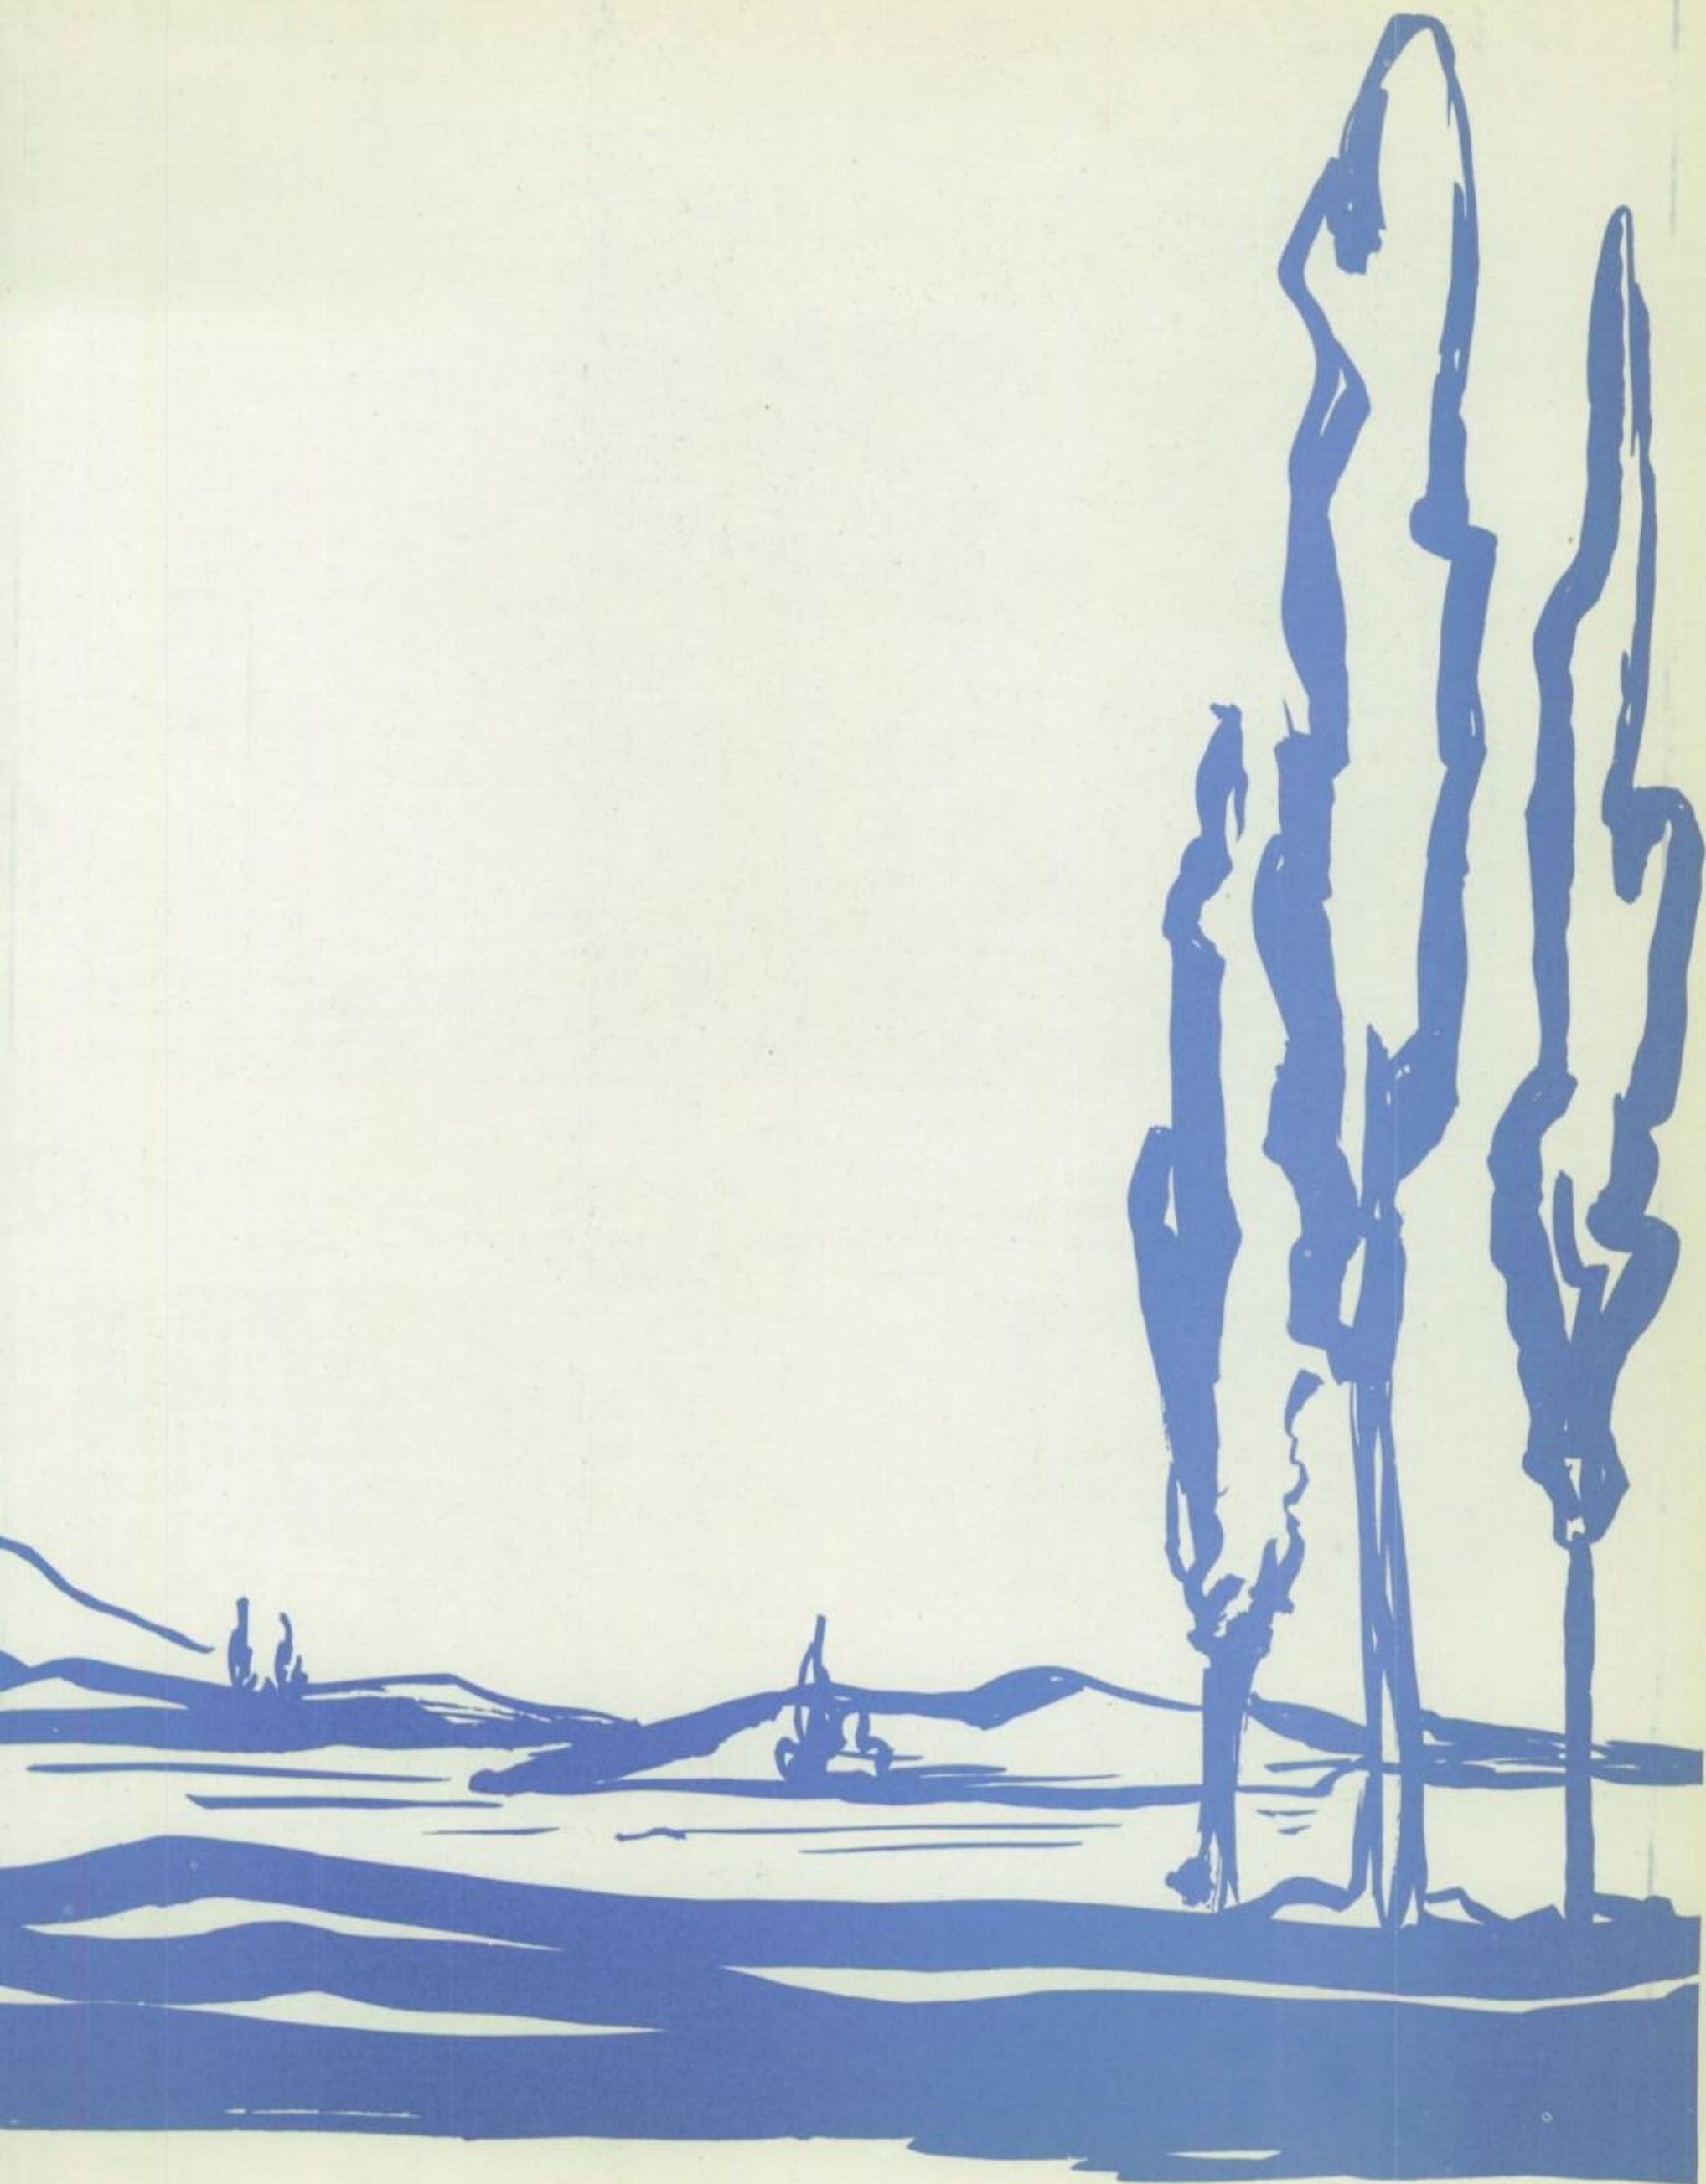

"Somewhere Over The Rainbow" was the theme of our formal dance, the Sophomore Stomp, which we sponsored November 9.

Our class presented for its assembly a one-act play, "The Contest Play," and a pantomime of "Cinderella" on March 19. Cinderella, incognito, Jerry Palmer, and all the other characters of the fairy tale were played by boys.

With anticipation we patiently await the happy days ahead in our high school career.

We, as ninth graders, have conquered all obstacles in the Junior High and now are prepared for membership in the Senior High.

Our school life began at Clark, Brown, and East. Miss Smith tutored us at Clark and Miss Gerrard at Brown. Those of us who went to East had three teachers our first year, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Wardle and Mrs. Diston.

Our grade school years passed smoothly and then came the big day that we entered Junior High. In the seventh and eighth grade we sponsored several dances. This year we took first place in the floats in the Homecoming parade with a float that depicted a cemetery in which the Devils buried the Dragons.

This year in cold January Mr. Bloom chaperoned us on a hayride. On November 20 we presented an outstanding assembly in which we re-enacted a night club scene with such celebrities as Doris Day, alias Kathryn Harris; Alice Fay, alias Althea Taylor; and Rosemary Clooney, alias Janet Barber.

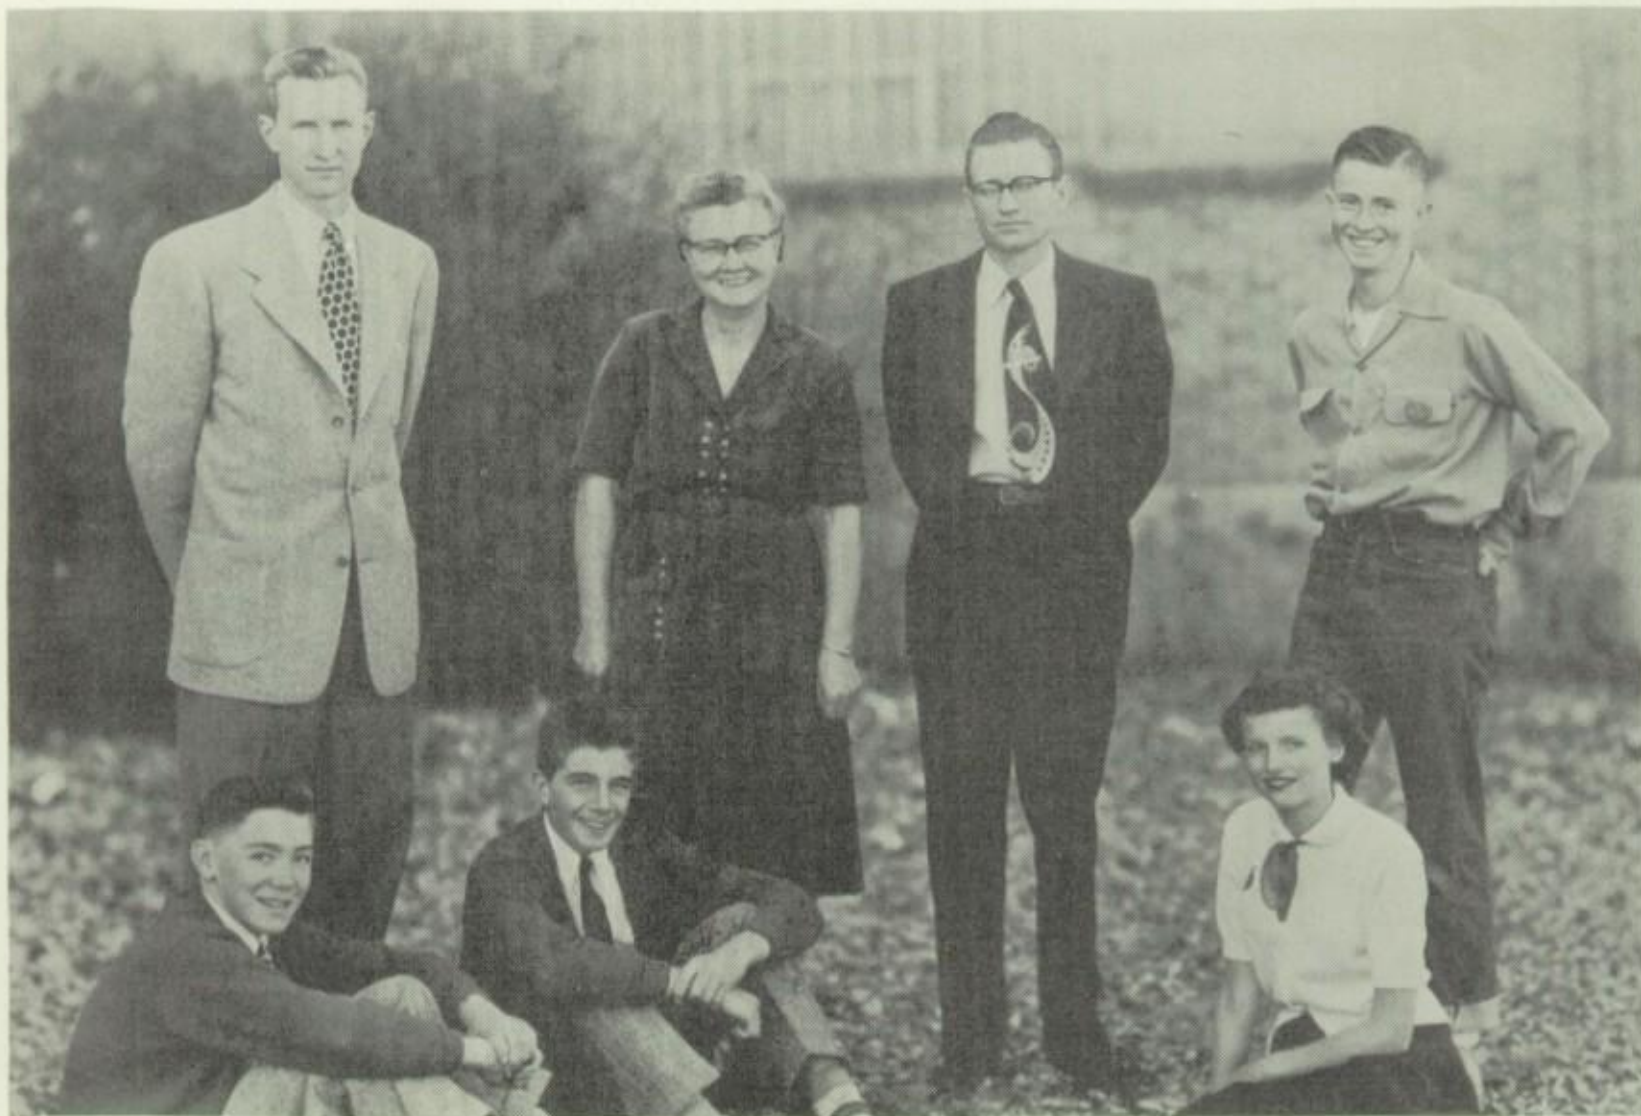

Out of the five cheerleaders chosen this year, three were ninth graders, Myrna Foss, Gayle South, and Janice Bills.

The ninth grade boys on the team were Richard Chappell, Earl Longhurst, Rudy Ellingford, Earl Harding, Richard Rice, LaMont Higginson and Don Stevens.

May 22, 1952, was the highlight of our freshman year. On this date we received our diplomas, which entitled us to full membership in the Senior High.

We, the seventh graders having just been introduced to a new system of schooling, have not taken part in many of the Junior High activities.

However, in the Homecoming parade, we took third place in the floats. We sponsored a dance, and had the privilege of having George Funk, Lee Longhurst and Kenneth Harris on the basketball team.

The big event this year was the presentation of our class assembly March 26, in which we had a "Television Broadcast." For example: we had such popular TV stars as Jack Benny, Amos and Andy, Little Red Riding Hood, Corliss Archer and Robert Q. Lewis' Waxworks. The Four Sportsmen, Larry Proffit, Eldon Walton, Daniel Davis and Tommy McDermet, who performed on Jack Benny's program, and Patsy Anglin, a vocalist on the Amos and Andy program, received special applause.

As eighth graders, we were very happy to be in the Junior High activities to the fullest extent.

Popular students in our class were Sally Putnam and Kay Barnes who were elected as cheerleaders. Jon Cook, Jon Lunsford, Charles Albrecht, Royce Bills and David Taggart made the basketball squad.

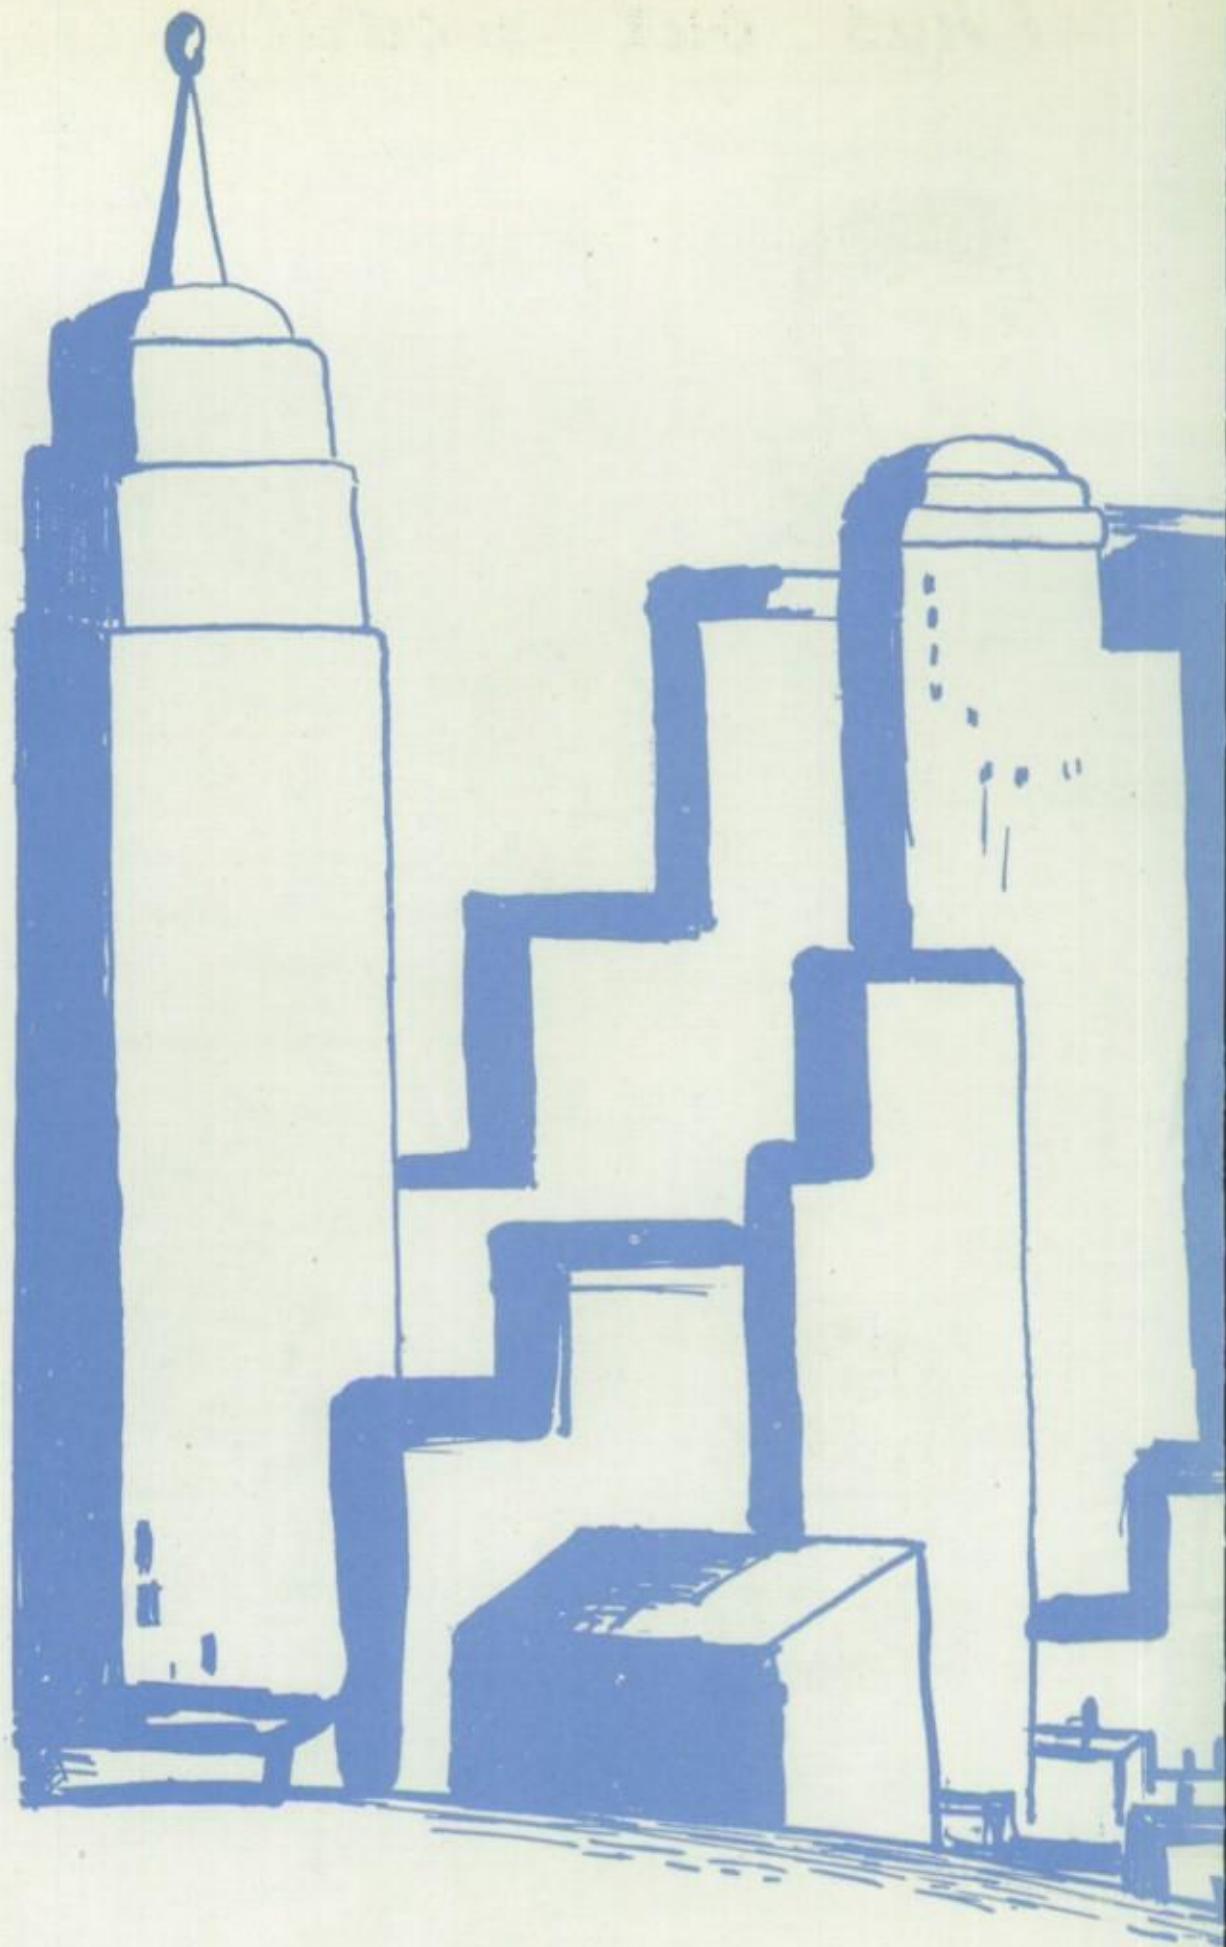

These honors were shared with the winning of second place on our float in the Homecoming parade September 21.

Highlighting our years activities was the presentation of our class assembly January 23. The theme depicted the "shut-ins" of a polio ward being entertained by Robert Davis and Del Session, who impersonated Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Other entertainers were Bonnie Bertagnolli, Dorothy Titmus, Janet Sim, Adrienne McPhie, Sharon Palmer, Carreen and Carol Beasley, Kay Barnes and Sally Putnam.

Gayle Kiddy played the part of the doctor. Sharlene Sims and Nancy Skyles were nurses.

Next year we will be "Seniors" of the Junior High.

Activities

In our future years when we have found our life's vocation, we will look back with enjoyment to the many activities we have participated in at Evanston High School.

As Pepsters in the Senior High, we are especially busy during the athletic season. Our activities included presenting skits, marching during the half period of games, and putting up signs in the halls.

We girls in the Junior High join the pep organization known as the Racerettes.

For the boys, who earn a block letter, whether it is in football, basketball, or track, the E Club is very important.

Students with dramatic talent belong to the Thespian and LaCita Mard Clubs. Their many plays and programs are of real enjoyment for all who see them.

For those with musical talents and ambitions, the Music Department with its bands and choruses offers a cultural outlet. Outstanding students in this field are honored by being chosen to attend the Inter-school Band and Chorus Concerts. This year there were two, one in Rawlins in November, and one in Rock Springs in March.

The Bi-Phy-Chem Club is for all students who enjoy working in the field of chemistry, physics and biology.

That Latin American language finds an expressive channel in the Spanish Club.

The FHA Club, or the Future Homemakers of America, is for all girls who are interested in home-making.

Future teachers satisfy their professional interests by joining the Kurphy Club.

The Mathematics Club, organized this year, provides a niche for all mathematicians.

Whether your interests are in music, science, mathematics, journalism or athletics, a place awaits you in Evanston High School with its various activities.

"Approximately" every two weeks an edition of the Paralyzer can be found almost anywhere in EHS. The school paper is published by Mrs. Thompson's Journalism Class.

After news articles, stories, features and editorials are submitted and Mrs. Thompson approves them, they are typed and placed in folders called a "dummy copy." After the entire paper is arranged on the dummy copy and proof read, the stencils are typed and mimeographed.

A copy of each edition is put on file in the Senior High Library. We exchange papers with 35 schools in Wyoming and Utah.

The Journalism Class each year attends the Journalism Conference at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. Here common problems are discussed, and suggestions for improvements of high school papers are made.

The Christmas issue is edited by the class, but printed locally. It is financed by advertisements from various business firms. The English Department willingly aids in the Christmas story and poem contest that is featured in this issue.

Note: I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Thompson, Geneva and the staff for their integrity and co-operation in making our school paper a successful enterprise.

The Spotlight, the publication of the Evanston Junior High School, is issued approximately every two to four weeks, the stress being laid on issues for special occasions, such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day, Junior High Tournament, and Easter.

The staff is selected chiefly from the ninth grade students who express a desire to become members and who have ability in writing. Reporters are also chosen to represent the eighth and seventh grades. The basic fundamentals of journalism may give them a foundation for subsequent work on the Senior High School publications.

This year the La Cita Mard and Thespian Clubs became separate organizations. Any student interested in dramatics may become a member of the La Cita Mard Club and through participation these members earn points toward becoming Thespians, which is a national dramatics organization.

Points were given for work in publicity, on stage crews, costumes, makeup, and other special committees toward play productions. In the field of acting the most points can be earned depending on major and minor roles.

Ten points, equivalent to 100 hours, entitle a student to Thespian membership.

"Ladies in Retirement"

"Ladies In Retirement", a three act melodrama, was presented Friday evening, December 7, under the direction of John F. Welsh.

The play cast included Shauna Eyre, Ellen; Ardis Troyer, Leonora Fiske; Dorothy Kochiras, Lucy, the maid; Irving Decker, Albert Feather; Eunece Atkinson, Louisa; Dee Jay Dean, Emily; and Lois Titmus, Sister Theresa.

The following personal critical review was given by Miss Goodwin, English instructor.

"One of the first comments I heard about Evanston High School was 'Our plays are the best. We have an excellent director.'

"Naturally, since I too had dabbled in dramatics, I was very eager to pass my criticism on these plays.

"Now that I have had my chance, I must admit that 'the East has nothing on the West' as far as plays are concerned anyway, because I sincerely feel 'Ladies in Retirement' was the best high school production I have ever seen. I must even admit that it was better than some productions I have seen in 'dear old Boston.'

"The scenes I shall remember mostly are: Shauna's coming down the stairs with murder in her eyes; Ardis' storming when she reached the breaking points as far as the two sisters were concerned; Dorothy's dressing in the dead woman's wig; Irving's shocked expression when he found the oven brick-ed in; Eunece's excitement over the lost telescope; Dee Jay's audacity when she blew out the candles; and Lois' kindness when she told of the arrival of the police.

"Not only do I feel that the director and cast deserve a tremendous amount of credit, but I also feel that the stage crew and costume crew did an excellent job."

"Junior Miss", a three-act popular comedy, was presented May 9, under the direction of John F. Welsh.

"Midsummer Night's Dream"

The Evanston High School players under the direction of John F. Welsh gave a rollicking presentation of William Shakespeare's comedy fantasy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on February 14 and 15.

The play was adapted and revised for this production in order to clarify its meaning and to enhance the enjoyment for the audience.

Quoting from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," "If you will laugh yourself into stitches, follow me."

That was exactly the response of the audience as such characters as Bottom, John Weis; Quince, Gary Green; Flute, Milton Homer; Snug, James Perkins; Starveling, Bruce Petersen; and Snout, Alan Dean presented the comic tragedy of "Pyramus and Thisbe" at the wedding feast at the palace of the Duke of Athens, Bruce Thompson, for him and Hippolyta, Bomell Miller. Others who here were feasting their betrothals were Lysander, Hardy Perkins, with Hermia, Donna Lu Blaes; and Demetrius, Elwood Haines, with Helena, Shirley Burdett.

The gayly colored costumes of this Grecian era and the elaborate lighting effects gave a panoramic appearance rarely excelled even in professional performances.

Other members of the cast included Connie Bradshaw as Titania; Irving Decker, Oberon; Ralph Martin, Egeus; Philip Van Camp, Puck; Richard Davis, Philostrate; and Kay Rumann alternate for Hermia.

Minor roles were played by Kara Rollins, Linda Petersen, Judy Rollins, Nancy Chappell, Pat Orrell, Kay Martin, Eunece Atkinson, Joanne Roderick, Nikie Kochiras, Ruthie Rollins, Joy Burleigh, Peggy Cornelison and Shirley Barnes.

This year the Bi-Phy-Chem Club limited its new membership to the Junior and Senior Classes. Three juniors and one senior were initiated.

Some of the main plans of the club included Christmas caroling, individual projects, club projects and the annual May breakfast.

Another activity of the club was the examining of information on the new advances in the field of science. At one meeting the main developments in science for the past twenty-five years were discussed.

It is hoped that as each year passes the Bi-Phy-Chem Club will become more and more active.

State Champions

Football on Parade

The Evanston Red Devils had a most successful year by winning the district, regional and state championships. Their record only showed one loss which was to Rock Springs, a class AA school, first in the season, September 7.

In pre-season scrimmage, the boys exhibited very little technique, which is a must for a winning team. Their blocking and tackling were of a very poor caliber. Hard work and sacrifice would be the keynote to success. By using the trial and error method, we were able to mold a group of boys that operated as a team.

Team work, along with the desire and will to work, has proved again what it can do for even a mediocre team.

The seasons record was as follows:

Home Games	We	They	Away From Home	We	They
Superior	26	6	Rock Springs	0	34
Rawlins	39	0	Kemmerer	18	0
Reliance	38	7	Star Valley	18	0
Green River	28	7	Jackson	32	6
Torrington	28	26
Worland	25	2

The win over Green River gave the Red Devils the district championship. Three weeks later, November 17, on a snow covered field and zero temperature, they met Torrington, the Southeastern winners, for the regional play-off. This victory put them into the finals. Thanksgiving Day, November 22, brought Worland to Evanston. The Red Devils surprised the spectators this day by giving Evanston its first State Championship.

The season's record for the varsity basketball team this year was eight wins, twelve losses. We tied for third place in the conference race, but we were eliminated at the district tournament.

We had hoped for a more successful season, but were handicapped by a late start. Considerable time was spent on fundamentals and learning a different style of basketball. We are in the process of laying a solid foundation for basketball in future years.

This year we have established an intramural program for grades seven through twelve which will benefit the younger boys in particular. This program will make basketball available for a greater number of boys.

In conjunction with these two programs we are stressing good sportsmanship and cleanliness of mind and body, which are basic requirements of a good basketball player.

The Junior High basketball team with fifteen boys participating under Coach Talboom displayed above average ability during the season by winning twelve of its sixteen scheduled games. However, they failed to live up to their winter's success by only placing fourth in the Junior High Tourney held in Evanston March 21 and 22. First place was taken by Star Valley in this play-off.

Excellent team co-operation was exhibited by the boys. This essential factor will be of profound importance toward building a champion varsity team in the coming years.

The seasons record was as follows:

Dear Diary

On September 4, the school doors were open,
For good grades and fun, all the students were hopin'.

Initiation for Sophomores was quite an affair
On the sixth of September, with everyone there.

September 7, our first football game
when Rock Springs beat us, it was really a shame.

On the twelfth of September, class elections took place;
Winning the cowbell the fourteenth, we led the race.

On the 21, we beat Superior here,
The boys played hard so we could cheer.

On the 25, the Mississippians gave us a treat;
When the curtains closed, we all clapped at their feat.

The Pepster banquet at Wood's the 26 was fine;
The 27 was the Racerette's night to dine.

On the twenty-eighth of September, we beat Afton's Braves;
About the Council dance that nite, everybody raves.

In October, the mighty Devils showed us what they could do--
We beat Rawlins, Jackson, Green River and Reliance, too.

The twentieth of October, district convention for FHA--
They had lots of fun, so all of them say.

On October 26, they had the seventh grade dance.
Did anyone miss it? Of course not, not a chance.

The Halloween film, "The Ghost Goes West,"
On November 1 was the very best.

The carnival dance on the third of November
Was an event that we'll always remember.

November 8 was the day
The Senior Class gave their play.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was the Sophomore's theme
On November 9, their Stomp was a dream.

The Deer-Hunter's ball by the FTA
On the 21, was bright and gay.

On the 22, there was no school
For Thanksgiving vacation, we broke no rule.

On Thanksgiving Day, our great football team
Won the State Championship, which made us all beam.

On November 29, the all-school play was presented.
"Ladies in Retirement," no one resented.

On November 30, and the first of December
The Inter-school concert at Rawlins, we'll remember.

On December 19, the Christmas concert was held
With the winter music, the auditorium swelled.

At the Christmas party the 20, the FHA girls
Played Santa to the children with bows and curls.

On the 21 of December, the Juniors gave their play
Portraying toyland on Christmas Day.

Dear Diary

Christmas vacation began the same day,
Which was welcomed by all, wouldn't you say?

January 7, we came back to school.
The weather was snowy and very cool.

On January 18 was the Council event--
To the Dogpatch dance, most of us went.

The first part of school really went fast,
For on January 18, half of it was past.

The eighth grade assembly on the Polio Drive
On January 23 showed us how we must strive.

"Midsummer Night's Dream" was quite a success
on February 13, 14 and 15, no less.

Watkins and Major, with act so gay,
On February 17 came our way.

We got out of school for Washington's birthday,
So on February 22, we went our own way.

The Pepster dance was on February twenty-third.
The socks were so loud, they could almost be heard.

On March 6-7-8 we all took a journey
With high hopes of taking the tourney.

On March 12, we saw the yodeling man;
No one can do it like Tony Gauer can.

"Cinderella" portrayed by the Sophomore boys
On March 19 brought us all joys.

The Junior High tourney was held in our gym
On March 21-22: our outcome was dim.

Speech Festival was held April 4-5-6;
Superior ratings were our school's gifts.

"How Deep is the Ocean?" was the Junior's theme--
Their Prom, the 19th, was really a dream.

On April 26 was the Seniors last chance
To attend their own class-sponsored dance.

"Junior Miss" was presented on May nine;
The cast knew every action and line.

Baccalaureate on the 18 of May
Will always be cherished as a favorite day.

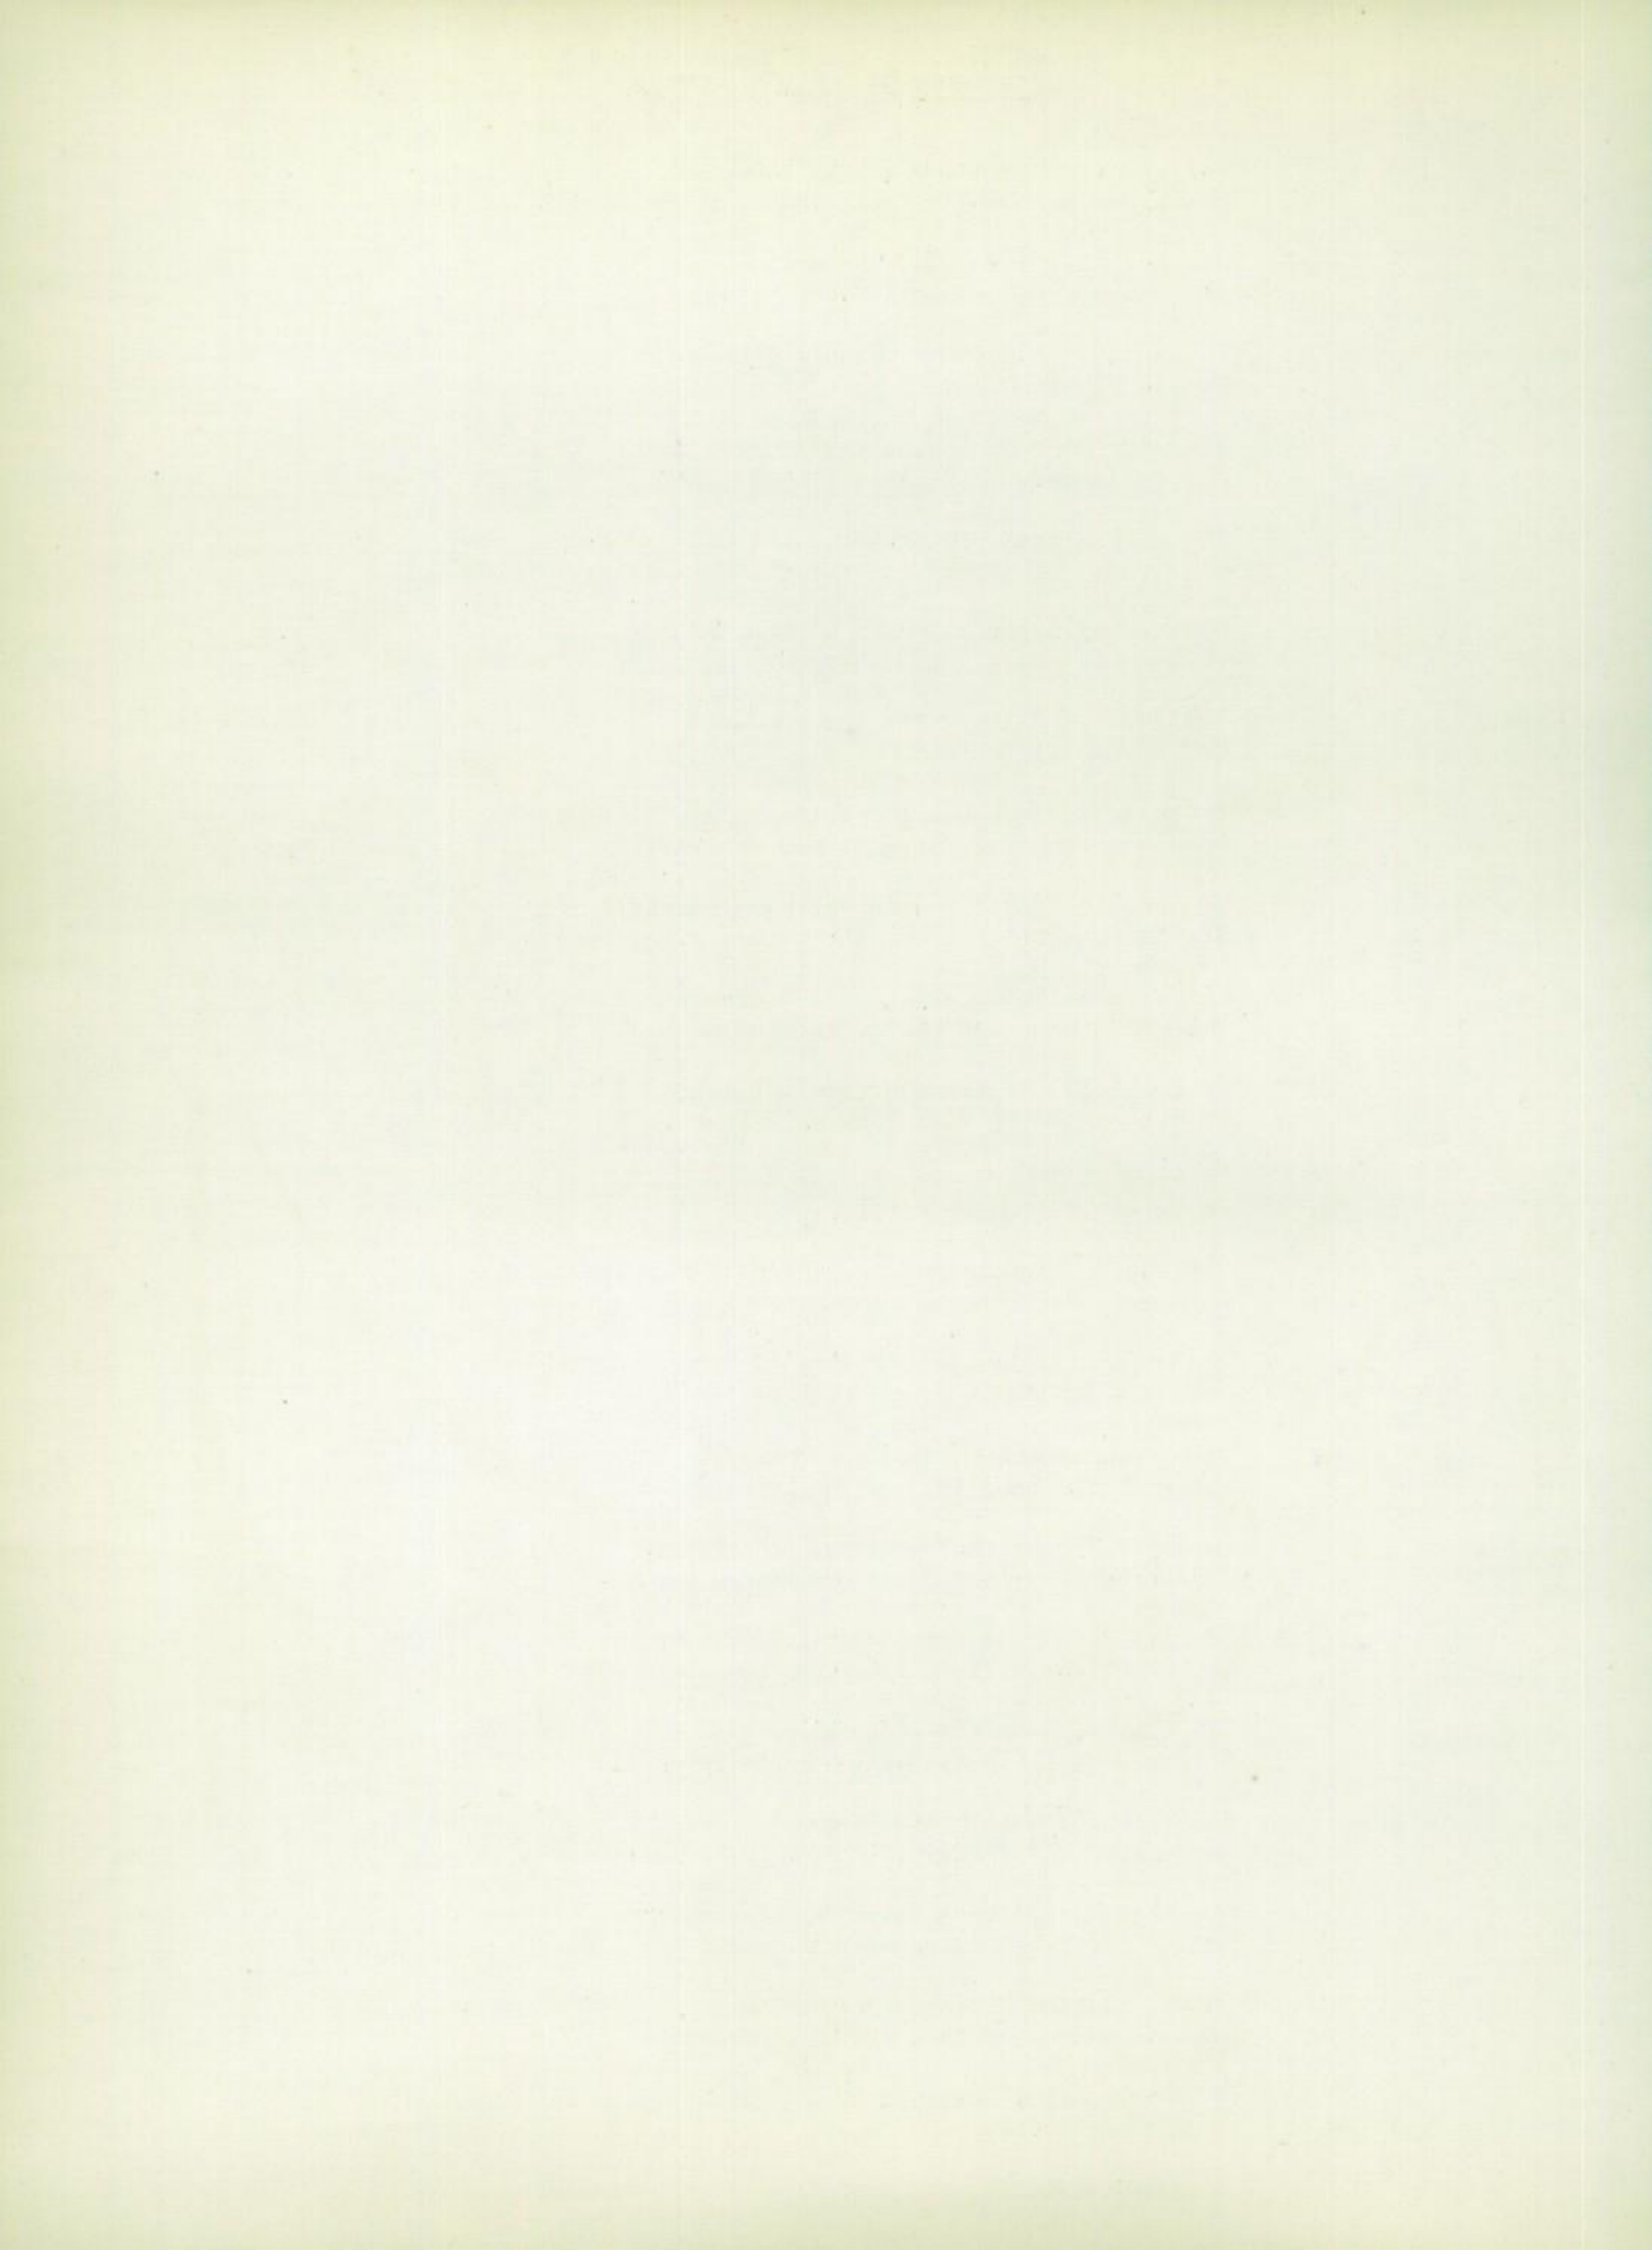

May 21 was Senior Class Night;
Our hearts were heavy, but our faces were bright.

Ninth grade graduation was a gala affair
On May 22, with proud parents there.

On May 23, the Seniors were awarded
Diplomas, and for their efforts lauded.

So we give this diary to you
Of all our actions in '52.
